EXPRESS BUS LINE STUDIED

THIS IS THE Helen Percy Chesebrough Chapter House, home of the San Mateo County American Red Cross. Money you contribute during the coming Red Cross funds drive will be used to further the work done by the Red Cross.

HISTORICAL GROUP TO BE STUDIED

Plans For Society To Be Discussed Here

Formation of an historical society for Daly City will come under study at a meeting to be held in Daly City, February 27.

This will be the highlight of the quarterly meeting of the Historical Association of San Mateo County to be held in City Hall at 8 p. m., Dr. Frank M. Stanger, executive secretary of the Association, announced.

Hostesses

Hostesses for the evening will be members of El Carmelo Parlor of the Native Daughters of the Golden West. Mrs. T. R. Kelly will be in charge.

Principal speaker of the evening will be A. H. Sagehorn, county treasurer, who will tell the story of the famous Broderick-Terry duel. It was Sagehorn who recently dedicated a plaque near the shores of Lake Merced where the duel was fought.

Another highlight of the evening will be a review of Daly City's history over the past 100 years. H. H. Smith, formerly mayor of Daly City, will be one of the leading speakers.

Councilman A. J. Gaggero and Arthur Bodien, city works superintendent, will also speak.

The public, and especially those interested in the history of Daly city, is invited to attend.

SERVICE SEEN AS SOLUTION TO RUSH HOURS

No. 14 Line Would Run Non-Stop During Peak Morning-Evening Hours

Plans for a fast, bus express service between Daly City and San Francisco are under study today by the San Francisco Public Utilities Commission.

Tentative plans call for an express on the No. 14 line during the rush hours of the morning and evening. The bus would pick up passengers from Daly City to Geneva avenue, and then run non-stop to Fourth or Fifth streets in San Francisco. The reverse of this schedule would be followed when the bus left San Francisco.

Fare Higher

R. J. McDonald, secretary of the PUC, said the fare on this special express bus would be 15 cents instead of the usual 10 cents.

"The feasability of this service, plus similar services for other San Francisco lines is now under study by Marmion Mill, an expert on such matters," McDonald declared.

Mill will make a report to the PUC at a special meeting this Monday.

It was noted that while the PUC has no objection to making the No. 14 line an express service, there is some controversy over other San Francisco lines.

"And as the whole matter of expresses must be treated as a 'package deal,' there may be some hold up while the matter is ironed out for eight other lines," McDonald noted.

Westlake Service

Meanwhile, asked about bus service for Westlake, McDonald said this had not been discussed at last Tuesday's meeting.

"Our hands are pretty well tied on this matter until all of San Francisco has adequate service," McDonald asserted. "It is difficult to extend our buses into San Mateo county when the people believe the money should first be spent at home."

He declared, however, that the PUC is attempting to work out some solution to the question of transportation for Westlake.

ANDERSEN NAMED TO CITY POST

Council Passes Emergency Civilian Defense Measure

(Editor's Note: Number of people, outside of city officials, present at Tuesday evening's council meeting: 15.)

Dan Andersen, Daly City Theatre manager, will take over the reigns of the city administrator's job March 1 at a salary of $500 a month.

That was made official by a resolution passed at the city council meeting Tuesday evening. Although no mention of salary was made in the resolution, Councilman Ed Mooney said the wage had been agreed on at an earlier closed meeting.

Orrin Wendling, who resigned as city administrative officer earlier, received a salary of $400 a month.

Civil Defense

The only other major move made by the council was the passing of an emergency civilian defense ordinance. (See other story on page 1).

There was some discussion by Concordia residents on the proposed notice to vacate a portion of Bellevue avenue. However, after a brief discussion the residents appeared to accept the council's move.

The council also approved the reclassification of four civil service positions: general street foreman, water distribution foreman, fire chief and the position of senior clerk as the city administrator's secretary.

Office Change

Mrs. Evely Cahn, who is now the administrator's secretary as a junior clerk was proposed to automatically take the position of senior clerk. However, Mrs. Marion McKaskle, president of the city employes association, objected on the grounds that a test should be first given. Councilman A. J. Gaggero agreed with Mrs. McKaskle, and this matter was referred to the Civil Service Board of Review.

Mrs. Jane Keith inquired when the council was going to "clean up" that portion of Hillside boulevard leading on to Mission past the old quarry. A. J. Bodien, works superintendent, was instructed to investigate this matter and report to the council.

More Business

Other business Tuesday evening included:

1. Setting a hearing for March 12 on the rezoning of a portion of Market Street between Mission and Mateo.
2. Accepting a petition by the Lagomarsinos for the annexation of four blocks of the Abbey Homestead to Daly City.
3. Appointing Councilman A. J. Gaggero and Fred Bertetta to the board of the new North San Mateo County Sanitation District. A third member of the board will be appointed at a later date by the county board of supervisors.

THE SWEETEST MUSIC IN THE WORLD

A child's laughter is the sweetest music in the world, and thanks to the city's $101,000 park program there is no lack of such music in Daly City.

Nowhere is this more evident than at the recently enlarged and re-equipped Marchbanks Park. On any holiday, school day afternoon, or weekend, the park is overrunning with happy, playful children. In fact, last Monday a city official noted that there were close to 500 young folks taking advantage of the park's varied facilities.

The same story can be told of the other playgrounds, present and planned in this area.

And not to forget the Community Center building, this structure, when completed in the fall, will offer young folks the finest recreation facilities possible.

It is heartening to know that when the bond issue for the parks program and Community Center was presented to the people that they passed it by an overwhelming vote of confidence. It is good to think that parents, who too often forget their children, had the foresight to at least present them with the gift of recreation.

Also, city officials responsible for sponsoring the bond issue are to be remembered. True, they have, and will, come under fire for many activities, but no one can question their wisdom in proposing to assist the children of the area.

No city of comparable size today can boast of a finer, or better organized recreation program. Of course, like any human activity, there is room for improvement; but parents and public officials alike deserve a vote of thanks for making possible the sweetest music in the world in Daly City . . . the voices of children at play.

White Street, Again

Broadmoor-Westlake Connecting Street To Be Discussed By Board

The question of a connecting street between Broadmoor and Westlake will be hashed over again when the Jefferson Elementary School Board meets Wednesday, February 21.

The meeting is to be held in Room 9 of the Woodrow Wilson School at 8 p. m. The public is invited to attend.

James Snell, superintendent of schools, said the board will reply to the county planning commission's demand that a connecting street run adjacent to the new Garden Village School.

On Record

"We have gone on record as opposed to such a site for the street," Snell said. "And I am sure the school board will remain adamant on this question."

The planning commission says it will not abandon White street until their plan for a connecting road has been approved. White street, or at least that portion running through school land, has been dedicated, but is not an actual street at this time.

As the school board plans to erect an upper Garden Village School near White, it is imperative that White street be abandoned.

"However, if the planning commission refuses to give way, we will probably proceed with building anyway," Snell said.

Divided Playground

He pointed out that this would mean that the playground for the upper division school would be divided by the road.

"This is not desirable, but it can be arranged. And, it is certainly better than going along with the planning commission and having a street running next to a grade school," Snell declared.

It appeared the only solution is a compromise; that is, a road between White and the one demanded by the planning commission.

Other business before the school board will include a report on building progress by Architect Mario Ciampi, and a report on the teachers' salary increases.

Army To Quit Station In Daly City Area

Within the next 30 months the army will move its radio station from the Crocker hills behind Daly City, Sixth Army headquarters announced this week.

The Daly City station has been the principal receiving point for Pacific Coast army installations.

Site of the new station will be in the northeast of Middletown in Lake County.

Radio interference and space limitations caused by encroachment of civilian housing are responsible for the move.

Westlake Man Reports Tire Slashing Case

One of the first cases of tire slashing in over a year was reported to police by G. P. Martin, 66 Fairway Drive, last Sunday evening.

Martin told officers he had parked his car at Vale and Mission earlier in the evening. When he returned he found three tires slashed, evidently with a knife, and the fourth flat also.

Police believe the damage was done by juveniles.

LOCAL WOMAN GIVES 22 PINTS OF BLOOD

Is this a record?

Mrs. C. G. Armstrong, 565 Bellevue avenue, reports that when she gave a pint of blood to the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank Tuesday that it was her twenty-second donation.

Parking Meters

34 Objectors To Present Petition

A petition bearing signatures of 34 business men displeased with the present parking meter situation will be submitted to the city council this week.

Thomas Gallen, attorney representing the signers, said the petition calls for a "general review" of parking meters, but does not call for any specific changes.

"As there are so many who wish to see some change in policy regarding the meters, I feel a special meeting of the council is in order," Gallen declared. "I have requested, therefore, that the council meet to discuss the question at a public hearing in the very near future."

Although the petition calls for no specific changes, those who signed the document have asserted they want everything from the return of diagonal parking to the elimination of all the meters.

Meanwhile, Judge Thomas Bocci who is circulating a similar petition from School street to Market on Mission, said there was a great deal of interest in the parking meter situation, but he could set no date at this time when he would submit his petition to the council.

Civilian Defense

Council Passes Emergency Ordinance To Speed Daly City War Preparation

Passage of an emergency civilian defense ordinance by the city council Tuesday evening has set into motion plans for organizing the city for defense.

Just when the ordinance will be applied to the reality of civilian defense is still in question. However, the council's prompt action Tuesday evening indicates that some immediate action is in the offing.

According to the ordinance the city is to be divided into four general precincts, each precinct with an official at its head. In turn, the precincts will be broken down into smaller units with wardens in charge of each of the units. There will be no unit as small as one block, as in the last war.

Heads

Heading the set up will be a disaster council composed of a chairman, vice chairman, and heads of the fire, water and police departments. There also will be a civilian defense director.

What men will fill these positions, and those of precinct and smaller departments has still to be determined, except in those cases where the mayor or fire chief or police chief is specifically indicated.

"All those interested in assisting in civilian defense, no matter in what capacity, are asked to sign up at City Hall," Ccuncilman Fred Bertetta noted today.

First Aid

Councilman Kennedy noted that in the very near future regular first aid classes will be taught at Jefferson High School at times convenient for both the husband and wife.

The council said it hopes that every family will have at least one member trained in first aid.

It is expected that a some later date, by resolutions, the organizations and individuals assisting in civilian defense will be named.

Blood Donations

Over 100 Westlake Employes To Help

More than 100 Westlake employees of Henry Doelger will donate their blood on March 9, when services of a mobil unit of the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank will be made available at the Jefferson Union High School in Daly City.

The unit, obtained through the efforts of Mr. Doelger in order to accomodate the many employees who wish to be donors, will be in Daly City from noon until 7 p.m.

Boy Scouts Help

Cooperating in the activities of Doelger employees to obtain blood donors for the United States Armed Forces, are Boy Scout troops and Cub Scouts of Daly City.

Both campaigns have been united and all groups are soliciting for donors in their respective localities. Thus, what started as the activity of one group, is rapidly taking the form of a widespread campaign among tll sections of the population.

Over 100

It is anticipated that the 100 Doelger employees who have already signed up, will be augmented by many more employees at Westlake.

Residents of Daly City and Westlake who wish to be blood donors may receive an immediate appointment by telephoning Miss Fargo, PLaza 5-1313. Those who have been contacted by Scouts, may sign their pledge cards in the usual way, it is explained, thus assuring a proper checkup on the Scout campaign for blood donors.

The test, he said, is designed to check the efficiency and speed of the state-wide hookup, and provide practice for personnel.

This year's quota is 25 per cent higher than last year, as more money is needed to meet next year's operating costs.

Tuesday morning, and thereafter for three weeks, scores of volunteers from the Daly City area will start their work of canvassing all residents. This will give each individual an opportunity to give to the all important work of the Red Cross.

Officials

Mrs. Margaret P. Brown is the colma chairman, including Broadmoor.

"The Red Cross is now engaged in the biggest peacetime program of its history," Lewkowitz declared. "Therefore, every penny is needed."

In addition, the Red Cross has greatly expanded in recent months and will continue to expand to maintain its traditional services to our growing armed forces, Mrs. McKaskle observed.

This year Westlake will have its own drive chairman in the person of Mrs. Nell Herzog, 69 Wilshire. Mrs. Herzog will meet with Mrs. McKaskle Friday evening to map out the city for the funds drive.

Contributions

Although the drive does not begin until Tuesday, the city council has already contributed $50 and the Eagles have given $10.

Vista and Garwood; Pat Arnaudo, Willits, between Knowles and Parkview; Lillian Passafiume, Bepler Street; Mary Voboril, the right side of Muirwood; Mary Conti, Los Banos; M. D. From A Corner

By Bill Katz

We all hate war . . . or do we? This, as one of the strongest, most dangerous paradoxes of modern civilization, threatens to destroy us all.

To be more specific: how many of us have thrilled to the truculent sound of a brass band; watched with vicarious pleasure movie heroes slaughtering the enemy; read with delight of bombing missions which murdered thousands; desired to be pointed out as a hero of war? I believe the majority of us, honest with ourselves, must give a positive answer to most of these questions.

War Is Good

This would indicate that war is good; for from the standpoint of more than one philosopher that which gives pleasure is good.

However, any reasoning being would deny this assertion. War is bad. The parents of men on the battlefield, the men themselves, the civilians caught in the wake of war will attest to the fact that war is the closest thing to hell on earth.

And yet, take these people, divorce them from the cold death that is the reality of war, and they will fall back into the ranks of those who enjoy the idea, but rarely the reality of combat.

Death Swim

This is not to say that men consciously want war, no more than a swimmer will venture out in waters that are too deep, or rough. Yet, more than one swimmer had been killed because the challenge of the raging currents, the thrill of immenent death, the desire for praise from his fellows has driven him on and outward. So with men and war. The mind, the reason, says "no" . . . the emotion screams "yes."

It might be argued that all of this is academic, that regardless of what men desire the "fates" decide, the nebulous enemy determines whether there shall be peace, or battle. We think not.

Although we vote a Republican ticket, we are of the opinion that the average Russian, Chinese or North Korean is no more desirious of battle than the average American, the only difference being that the Communists nations have been sold on the idea that war is the only solution. Americans are rapidly coming around to the same idea.

Vicious Circle

We are caught up in the vicious circle. Apparently no one wants war, yet everyone must prepare for war. There is, of course, no alternative to America's present rearming.

This is the dilemma . . . we all hate war, but subconsciously we enjoy the idea of turmoil. For, in truth, if everyone hated war one smal part as much as they admit there would be no war. Over the centuries war has become as much of man as his driving desire for security and sex.

The Answer

This, as we see it, is the solution . . . replace war with an emotion as strong. To paraphrase the great American thinker, William James: "We need the moral eqivalent of war; something heroic that will speak to men as universally as war does."

What is that "moral equivalent?" The man who can find the answer, and turn it to action, will be the savior of man.

What do you believe is the "moral equivalent" of war? There has to be an answer, or the earth may soon be populated with a species of flora and fauna that will have neither the reasoning power or ability to solve anything except to grovel for existence in an atomic blasted planet.

It is reported that murder has become overwhelmingly fashionable on the radio and screen . . . at least in this country. Not so in moralistic France where crime is taboo, but movies with nudes quite acceptable. A compromise should prove interesting to both American and French audiences.

The county is looking for a civilian defense head. Knowing San Mateo county politics, the man that takes the job better have a good defensive plan of his own worked out . . . to keep the position.

Next week we celebrate the birthday of the man who reputedly never told a lie. It's a good thing George isn't running for office today. With such a value for truth he could never deliver a winning campaign speech.

Taxes may soon jump the price of liquor to an all time high. Conversely, taxes may soon lower the number of gals and guys who usually get high.

Letter To Editor

Resident Suggests Daly City Library Should Be Open To Broadmoor Readers

100 Alder Avenue
Colma 25, California
February 9, 1951

Gentlemen:

Seems to me a fine, public-spirited publication like THE RECORD needs a letter of appreciation once in a while. So here's mine, right now. By the way, if your paper is biased on any political subject I've yet to detect evidence of it. That's one thing I appreciate very much.

Okay, another thing I like is Bill Katz's interesting column, "From A Corner." I can't always agree with everything Bill says . . . particularly when he gets started on pannig the women folk! But that's all right . . . I have my moments of thinking the men have some objectionable traits! And in general, Bill Katz digs up something very interesting and provocative to write about each week . . . and presents it in his own distinctive way.

May I offer one idea in connection with the possible re-organization of the Daly City Library? No, two ideas:

First . . . if it is not feasible to build a new library right now, and if more shelf space is needed . . . why not do a housecleaning job? I mean, appoint a committee of people who know what are the more desirable books and what books are uninteresting, outmoded, or worthless from the standpoint of being good literature or interesting, informative reading. Then simply toss out a lot of books that are taking up shelf space without earning their way. It's what I've done for years in the case of my own book shelf space at home, and I know it does wonders for the quality of the books that remain!

Second, it is now impossible for us who are not political residents of Daly City to use the Daly City Library. Why not let us use the library on payment of a fee, the money to go toward buying new books, renovation, or whatever is needed? It would be good library procedure, seems to me, to make the library accessible to a maximum number of bookworms.

Very best wishes to your personnel from your interested reader,

MRS. RAMON GOMEZ

Driver Sprints To Save Car

An unpleasant surprise, coupled with a 50 foot sprint, was in store for Raymond Foster, 372 Santa Barbara, when he parked his car in front of 32 Theta Avenue Saturday afternoon.

Foster had parked the machine, and had walked away. On an impulse he turned around. The car was no longer at the curb. In fact, it was slowing rolling down Theta avenue.

Making a dash for the machine, Foster was unable to reach it until it had run down a parking meter, a pole guard on a fence in front of the Woodrow Wilson School.

At about the same time police drove by. Foster was cited for failure to make a hill hold. He also faced the private financial loss of repairing the meter, fence, and the front of his car.

Meanwhile, still another "runaway" machine was reported in Daly City over the weekend. This belonged to Mrs. Halford, 181 Vale, who parked her car in front of her home Sunday afternoon. A moment later the car took off, and didn't stop until it had run into the back of another machine in front of the home of Mrs. Huber, 119 Vale.

Mrs. Halford, too, was cited for hill-hold.

John Soldavini Attends Nat. Auto Dealers Meeting

Crucial business mixed with a continual round of entertainment featured the National Automobile Dealers Association general convention at Miami Beach, in Florida, it was learned from John Soldavini, head of Belli Motors, 7400 Mission st., who attended the important meetings.

One of the vital subjects discussed was the curtailment of automobile production, explained Mr. Soldavini in relating that the overall purpose of the gathering was the general betterment of his industry and mutual understanding.

He went on to reveal that just how far the cutbacks will extend was not determined for a very good reason. It is evident, he said, that even the top level authorities are unable to definitely state what will transpire in this regard during 1951.

Mr. Soldavini, however, was convinced that it won't be long before there will be a new car shortage, especially in certain models as to body construction and design. Therefor, he suggested that prospective purchasers would do well to avoid delay in making selections.

He went on to say that the convention was one of the most lavish he ever attended. He asserted that the entertainment provided by the city of Miami and General Motors was done on a grandiose scale.

The fete given by the former was attended by approximately 7,000 persons, who were wined, dined and treated to a show that was enough to arouse the envy of Hollywood. The main event was a gala aquacade, with numerous beauties from all over the United States, demonstrating their swimming prowess.

Approximately 4,000 people gathered for the General Motors party, also including a water display that brought ringing cheers from the huge audience which was thrilled by the dazzling demonstration.

At the conclusion of the meetings, Soldavini and his party sailed to Cuba for a visit. He said that he and his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Altieri, also of the Belli Motors, enjoyed their stay in the West Indian islands.

He explained that the natives went to great lengths to welcome the American visitors. Moreover, the friendliness demonstrated was sincere, aiding and abetting the tour of Havana's novel sights and entertainment places.

In closing, Mr. Soldavini declared that Florida is one of the garden spots of America, and he hoped that he would be fortunate enough to visit the State again before so very long.

Sequoia and Kings Canyon National Parks extend from the foothills of the San Joaquin Valley to the crest of the High Sierra.

YOUR DALY CITY GARDEN CLUB NEWS

This is an easy month for gardeners to lose interest for we have had an unusually wet winter and being unable to tend to things in the gardens, we all get a little lazy—so now that the sun is showing, it is time to rustle your bones and catch up on garden chores.

I find satisfaction in making a garden plan or outline on paper early in the year showing when and where I want to plant new annuals and the perennials.

Also make and keep a garden note book—jotting down bulbs, annuals, perennials, cuttings, shrubs, seeds, location, fertilization and sprays used and the resulting reaction and use this for a trial and error reference.

It still isn't too late to plant the earlier bulbs (Tulip, Daffodil, Crocus and Hyacinth) although planting this late, the early blooming effect is lost and blooms won't be quite as showy. Cut back Canna Lillies for fresh vigorous growth. Fertilize around Iris, but keep it away from tubers.

Plant late blooming bulbs such as Amaryllis, Anemone, Freesia, Gladiolas, Gloxinia, Regal Lilly, Ranunculus, Tiger Lilly, Watsonia, Calla Lilly and Dutch Iris.

By all means hurry and finish planting and transplanting also pruning roses. Do your winter rose spraying now and work in a generous portion of fertilizer (preferably manure) around roses.

Dig and fertilize perennial border and planting area and plant in rows leaving space for cultivation, irrigation and spraying. Plant in the same row all flowers having the same season of bloom so you can remove them after blooming without disturbing the flowers which have not blomed yet. Water plants before applying fertilizer to eliminate the possibility of burning.

Plant evergreens and tall shrubs by getting balled roots—firming soil around the balled roots. So they won't blow down in the spring winds, reinforce with a red wood stake; driven deep into soil and tied to shrub.

Plant sweet pease, nasturtiums, snapdragons, poppies and wildflower seeds, Cuttings may be started from Hydrangeas, Syringas, Fuchsia and Lantana.

Those of you who are fortunate enough to have sunny sheltered areas and want Chrysanthemums—start the plants now from cuttings. If you have old established plants, dig up, divide and reset the new shoots.

Look after stored tubers and bulbs—being certain they are properly dried to avoid mildew and rot. Be certain they are not infested with insects.

Loretta Lagomarsino is recovering at her home from a broken leg received when she tripped on the stairs last week at her home.

John D. McLaughlin, well known Daly City youth, was called back into the United States Army this week as a sergeant in a coast anti-aircraft unit.

Spring Showing In Our Parks

Mild as most of our local winters are, it still is a welcome sight to find the first promise of the coming of Spring in our gardens and parks.

Subject to some variation in exact calendar date, even without benefit of any groundhog, we may feel fairly sure that Spring is almost here by the first sign of flowers on the so called Japanese Apricot, Prunus Mume.

In reality this is a Chinese tree, actually the "Plum-blossom" about which Chinese poets and painters have rhapsodized. Several paintings of this tree are now coming into bloom at the Strybing Arboretum in Golden Gate Park, and should be at their best during the next three weeks.

The particular variety now flowering is Prunus Mume var. "Dawn," which differs from the type in having deeper pink, semi-double flowers. This earliest of our flowering fruit-trees does very well in San Francisco; and is readily obtainable from most nurseries.

OPEN THE LIBRARY TO BROADMOOR

One reader this week suggests that the facilities of the Daly City Library should be made available to residents of Broadmoor.

We think this is a fine idea, and can see no reason why the city doesn't take immediate steps to put such a plan in operation. In dollars it would cost the city not one "red" cent; in fact, it might be a money making proposition for the library. Broadmoor residents, because they do not pay city taxes, should be willing to pay a small fee for using the local library. This money in turn, could be used to assist the library fund.

It is true Broadmoor and Colma are not in Daly City. However, it must be remembered that part of the support of our local library comes from county funds. Therefore, there should be no objection to "out-of-town" residents using local facilities.

Time and time again this proposition has been suggested to the city. It is about time they took some positive action.

HOW MANY DOLLARS FOR SHELTERS?

Last week we suggested erection of bus shelters in Daly City. Our suggestion met the immediate approval of more than a score of residents.

City officials approached, also voiced approval of bus shelter. However, they noted nothing should be done until the present investigation of the city budget is complete. They point out that if funds are available, the shelters probably could be erected.

This appears to be a reasonable answer. It is true shelters are needed, but many other improvements such as in the library, streets and parks are also demanded.

We would suggest, therefore, that when the budget has been examined, the city make a candid, honest reply to how much is available for such improvements as bus shelters. If there is not enough in the coffers for shelters, the people will be satisfied to wait until funds are available. ..However, if there are a few "extra" dollars, they could be put to work for the comfort of the thousands of commuters.

The bus riders are reasonable, but they in turn expect a reasonable reply from the city.

LET'S CHANGE THE PINBALL LAW

Number of lads and lassies under 18 counted playing pin ball machines in local establishments after 10 p.m. Tuesday night: 8

Number of High School students playing pin ball machines in another local establishment during the lunch hour Wednesday: 10.

To repeat: according to a city ordinance of June, 1942, it is perfectly legal for these young people to waste their lunch money on these machines.

When is the city, when are the PTAs going to object? A simple clause in the ordinance, putting pinball machines off limits for those under 18 years would be enough.

PRECAUTION MAY SAVE A LIFE

Unwittingly, tomorrow, next week or next month you may kill your child.

The instrument of death will be the bottles in your medicine cabinet. Over the past four weeks, there have been five cases reported in Daly City where youngsters have taken great quantities of aspirin. Fortunately, none of these cases were fatal.

In addition to aspirin, children recently have swallowed everything from liquid shoe polish to clothes dye. Outside of a bad stomach ache, they have lived.

In each of these cases, the neglectful parent was probably to blame. Failure to put these bottles out of reach, might have taken the life of their child.

Today make a careful check of your home. Be sure to put all drugs or dangerous items in a good high place where the child can not reach, nor find them. This simple precaution may well mean the life of your child tomorrow.

Beat Inflation

Now Is The Time To Plant A Garden, Raise Chickens, And Process Fruit

FEB. 15. (CNS)—Two methods of beating the high cost of living and aiding the battle against inflation were outlined here today by Agricultural experts who said a lessening demand for the necessities of life is the only solution to the problem of high prices.

Experts advise the home owner to: (1) plant economy gardens in the back yard; (2) keep a few chickens if possible; and, (3) process fruits and vegetables at home.

Economy gardens will help relieve the pressure on produce markets. Many fruits and vegetables will go into canning this year to supply the military services and increased civilian demand.

Amateur gardeners should see that they use only the finest seed to secure the best results.

By substituting home-raised chickens and eggs, the consumer will ease the demand for high priced meats and hold the market supply of eggs within a reasonable price range.

More tomatoes, vegetables, fruits and juices will be canned this year than at any time following World War II, and prices are expected to remain high because of government and civilian buying. Home processing will give the housewife a supply at less than retail prices.

Budgets are strained, experts point out, and food purchases now take the bulk of incomes. Food produced at home at small expense will lighten the burden and will provide a hobby for husbands and wives.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

by Henry C. MacArthur

The battle to defeat pension promotor George McLain's new constitutional amendment on liberalizing old age assistance has already begun.

At present, it appears the people of the state, whether they like it or not, will be called upon to ballot on the McLain proposal in November, 1952. The state legislature has the amendment before it for action, but the best predictions are the legislature will not take action one way or another, thereby forcing the amendment to the ballot.

One Blast

First blast on the subject is touched off by the California State Chamber of Commerce, which in a seven-page booklet distributed at the capitol, and available to persons interested in the subject, says in so many words that California's penchant for generosity has old age and other forms of public assistance too high under the present constitutional amendment.

Payments are running, the pamphlet says, approximately a third of a billion dollars a year, and represent about 20 per cent of all taxes collected in the state.

Total High

With more than 470,000 persons on the public assistance rolls, including the aged, children, the indigent and blind, the total is rapidly approaching the number of persons who pay income taxes in this state, which totals only 603,000, the pamphlet says.

An in comparison with other states of the union, California's aid payments far outstrip those of New York, which has one and a half times as many people. This state's payments in July, 1950, the chamber says, totaled more than $27 million, while New York's were slightly more than $18 million. And in comparison with Pennsylvania for the same month, a state which is barely topped by California in population, slightly less than $11 million was paid.

Taxpaper Aided

The pamphlet, counteracting the McClain demand for liberalization of the pension program, points out that California can reshape the present public assistance payment plan "in such a way that it takes some of the burden off the taxpayer, and can revise its public assistance laws so that its standards are more nearly in line with the rest of the country."

And the chamber gives the legislators suggestions on how to go about revising the program. Some of its suggestions include:

A reduction in property owned by recipients of aid to that allowed by other states, and having the estates of deceased recipients reimburse public treasuries, as is done in most states.

Income Set

Keep recipient's income to a "flat grant" of $75 per month, and provide that other income be reported and subtracted from the public aid.

Ask relatives who are financially responsible to pay more toward support of their parents.

Limit maximum aged aid to maximum given currently for old age and survivors insurance and limit maximum in children's cases to that given in the "survivors" part of the program.

Make more intensive efforts to locate deserting parents and make them financially responsible for their children's care, also make divorcing parents more responsible.

Rewrite laws to encourage people to work and be thrifty.

State Recreation Commission

Apparently, there will be no organized move to abolish the State Recreation Commission at the 1951 session of the state legislature, such as occurred two years ago when economy programs anticipated the elimination of several of Governor Earl Warren's Commissions.

The proposal at that time caused all kinds of construction particularly among the personnel of the State Recreation Commission, but Sterling Winans, the State's Director of Education, spent a great deal of time in the capitol corridors during the session, and successfully weathered the storm.

Increase

The recreation commission this year asks $95,950 in the Governor's budget, as total expenditures for support. This represents an increase of $2,588, or 2.8 per cent over the current fiscal year budget.

Nearly two thirds of the commission's budget, $60,127 is to be spent for salaries and wages, while another $16,000 of the commission's operating expenses goes for travel and automobiles.

What the public is supposed to get for this nearly $100,000 annual expenditure is outlined in the third annual report of the commission, which has just been printed and turned over to the Governor.

Recreation Needs

The commission has completed 17 appraisals of recreation needs in California communities and 13 plans for development of recreational facilities in cities, counties and areas. Actual surveys completed total three, in Fresno City, Fresno county and Marin County.

It has 13 appraisals, and two plans for development under way.

Scheduled for the 1950-51 operation are two appraisals, and five plans for development.

In addition to this assistance being given cities and counties, the commssion had printed a total of 8,000 books on recreation, 3,893 of which are still on hand. These were "Standard For Professional Recreation Personnel," the "Second Annual Report To Governor Warren," the "1950 California Recreation Conference Proceedings" and "Compilation of Laws Relating To Recreation."

Films Shown

And out of California's more than ten million people, 9,975 have been privileged to look at three technical films the personnel of the commission showed 164 times. These films were entitled "Leaders For Leisure," "Playtown, U.S.A.," and "$1,000 For Recreation." All were procured from the Athletic Institute, which has offices in Chicago.

The Commission included in its report a suggestion of the special crime study commission on social and economic causes of crime and delinquency, in which recommendations for expansion of the activities of the commission were made, including provision of recreational facilities through mobile equipment for California's migrant workers.

Subsequently, the recreation commission proposed establishment of recreation facilities on large ranches through a co-operative program in which management would provide land, facilities and supplies, and the county would provide leadership.

Income Tax Headaches

Internal Revenue Collector Explains Basic Rules For Filling Out Returns

(Editor's Note.) This is the third in the series of articles prepared by the Collector of Internal Revenue, James G. Smyth of the First California District outlining and explaining income tax rules and regulations to be followed in preparing 1950 returns.

Personal exemptions for income tax purposes are $600. If you have attained the age of 65 by December 31, or at the close of your taxable year, an additional $600 exemption will be allowed on account of age. If you are blind at the end of your taxable year, an additional $600 exemption may be claimed.

Thus, a person over 65 and blind would be entitled to claim a total exemption of $1,800. This would include the normal exemption ($600), an exemption for age ($600), and an exemption for blindness ($600).

Spouse Dies

If the spouse dies during the year, and is either 65 or blind at the time of death, the exemption is allowable. However, if the spouse dies before reaching the age of 65, only one exemption is allowed, even though had the spouse lived until the end of the year, he or she would have attained the age of 65.

Only one $600 exemption is allowed for each closely related person, dependent upon you for support. For income tax purposes, dependency means that you provide more than half of the dependent's support during the taxable year. However, anyone who has a gross income of $500 or more during the taxable year, cannot be claimed as a dependent.

Relative's Status

The dependent must be a relative in one of the following degrees in order for you to obtain an exemption with respect to him:

Your child, or the child's descendant (a legally adopted child is considered as a child by blood);

Your stepchild, but not the stepchild's descendant;

Your brother or sister, half brother or half sister, stepbrother or stepsister;

Your parent, grandparent, or other direct ancestor;

Your stepfather or stepmother;

Your uncle, aunt, nephew, or niece, but not their husbands or wives. Cousins are not recognized as dependents.

Continue Claim

Your father-in-law, mother-in-law, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, son-in-law, or daughter-in-law.

The above relationship of affinity once existing will not be terminated, for income tax purposes, by divorce or by the death of a spouse. This means, for instance, that the taxpayer may continue to claim an exemption for supporting his mother-in-law even though death or divorce dissolves his marriage.

State Affairs

Legislature Acts During The Week

The Governor cancelled all appointments early in the week and went to University Hospital in San Francisco for a checkup of recurring pains in his arm. Advices were that the chief executive was suffering from neuralgia.

The Legislature was in the doldrums because of the legislative recess until March 12, when the solons will reconvene for the second part of the 1951 session. Assemblyman Laughlin Waters, chairman of the interim committee on elections and reapportionment, announced a series of meetings throughout the state to permit the public presentation of views on reapportioning the state into new assembly and congressional districts.

The Departments: Thomas H. Kuchel, state controller, announced distribution of more than $42 million from the highway users tax fund to counties of the state. Fish and game announced the 1951 hunting and fishing regulations.

Edward Cain, former Democratic assemblyman from Sacramento, was appointed by the governor to the Unemployment Insurance Appeals Board. Civilian Defense announced contributions to civil defense could be deducted fro mincome taxes.

Plant quarantine announced 151,101 automobiles with 453,143 passegers crossed California borders during January. Division of mines said mineral production in the state was more than a billion dollars for the year 1949. Agriculture said that despite cold weather, truck crops are moving to markets from California farms in generous quantities.

Miscellaneous: The annual convention of the California Newspaper publishers association was held in Sacramento.

SMALL BUSINESS GETS 75 PERCENT IN MILITARY ORDERS

The Department of Defense has reported that of the 1,736,882 purchases of supplies, services, and construction by the military services in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1950, a total of 1,267,00, or 73 percent, were transactions with small business firms.

In dollar value, the report shows that small business received $1,310,615,000, or 24.5 percent, of the total of $5,355,396,000 spent for defense orders. In addition to receiving direct contracts, small businesses (firms employing fewer than 500 persons) also benefitted from military orders by working as subcontractors for other military suppliers.

Three-fourths of all purchase actions during the year were not larger than $1,000 each, most of which went to small business. On contracts of less than $5,000 each, 71 percent of the dollar value went to small business firms.

ARMOR INSIGNIA — Since the cavalry branch of the U. S. Army was replaced by the armor branch under the Army organization act of 1950, a new insignia will be worn by troops in the mechanized branches. The design above shows a front view of an M-26 tank with gun slightly raised and superimposed on two crossed cavalry sabers in scabbards with cutting edge up. It is of gold-colored metal. The artillery branch, consolidating the former field, coast and antiaircraft artillery branches, will retain the crossed field guns insignia, a design in use for more than 100 years.

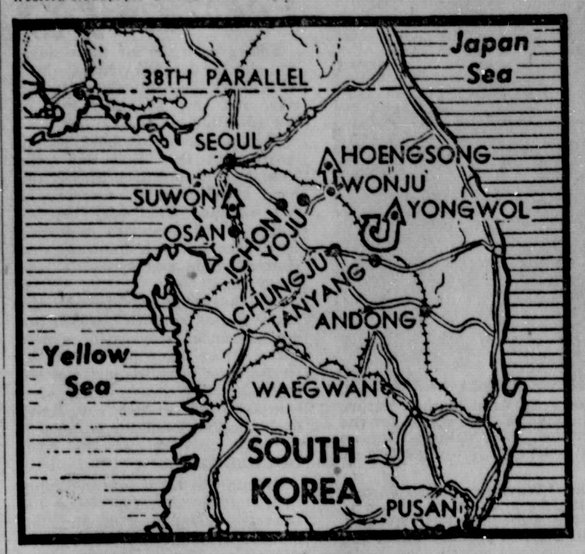
WORLD SOURCES OF NICKEL

Canada, the world's predominant producer of nickel since the early part of this Century, continued in 1950 to furnish the industrial world with the major portion of its requirements. This year's nickel output of the French New Caledonian deposits is reported to have been sufficient to meet the requirements of French industry. No information is available on Russia's 1950 production of nickel.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Government Issues Stopgap Order Freezing All Wages and Prices; AEC Conducts Atomic Experiments

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)



The mystery of the vanishing Chinese armies who failed to take advantage of their breakthrough into South Korea remained unsolved as U.N. forces advanced toward the 38th parallel. The advance was not an all-out push, but a probing action by U.N. forces in an effort to locate the enemy.

WAGES-PRICES:

A Stopgap Order

A stopgap order freezing wages and prices was issued by the government. Although unsatisfactory as far as the average consumer was concerned, the measure at least was a stab toward stopping the wage-price spiral that had swept across the nation in the last few months.

The main effect of the order was that it brought to a standstill hundreds of collective-bargaining negotiations in industry. Prices on a number of goods and services were frozen, but there were also a number of exemptions, the most important one being the price of food.

According to administration spokesmen the price freeze would be replaced as fast as possible by specific ceiling prices, industry by industry. Such a procedure could go on forever.

The wage freeze would be wiped out as soon as a flexible wage policy could be compiled, it was announced. This "flexible policy" was considered necessary to permit lagging wages in some industries to come up to a certain standard.

The price order was complex and confusing, especially with respect to farm products and food.

First of all, there was no freeze of any food prices at the farm level.

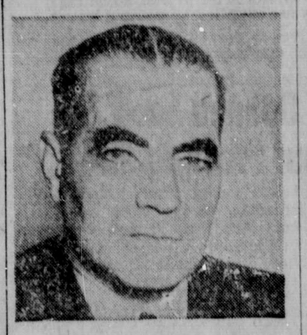
But on the processing, wholesale, and retail levels, food prices were frozen if the farm prices of those foods were above parity. Thus, beef, veal, pork and lamb prices were frozen.

(Parity is a sliding scale designed to keep farm prices at a fixed relation to the farmer's costs. The law prohibits price ceilings below parity.)

Most farm products at the time of the wage-price freeze were below parity. Poultry and eggs were examples. If and when the farmer's price went up on those things, the wholesaler and retailer could not raise prices to increase their margins. The increase, however, would be automatically passed along all the way to the consumer.

Other things exempt from price controls included communication and publication fields—like newspapers, books, magazines, radio, television and theater admission.

AEC Tests



Captain Carroll Tyler, manager of the AEC Santa Fe operations office at Los Alamos, N.M., announced test detonations at the atomic testing range near Las Vegas. Tyler gave no details of the tests. His announcement was a warning to residents of the area that such tests were scheduled.

A-BOMB:

Tests Rock Las Vegas

While most of the world waited with apprehension at the result and announcements of the first atomic explosion in this country in a number of years, residents of Las Vegas, Nevada, 40 miles from the atomic testing range, were irked about the whole business.

The atomic energy commission shrouded its experiments in silence. It was known, however, that three explosions took place. Las Vegas witnesses reported a tremendous white flash in the sky, closely followed by another flash, orange in color and not as bright.

Las Vegas residents reported windows shook, houses trembled and burglar alarms in business establishments were set off.

The last explosion was felt and seen in Boulder City, about 65 miles from the test range.

EUROPE:

Time for Co-operation

In the last few weeks, especially since General Eisenhower made his tour of Europe, there seems to have developed a feeling of mutual co-operation between the United States and our allies.

The reluctance to arm and speed up production that was evident only a few months ago disappeared. Britain has launched a production speed-up and rearmament program. And now France has announced plans to take her place beside the U.S. and Britain.

To further this co-operation, French Premier Rene Pleven arrived in Washington for conferences with President Truman. After a series of meetings it was announced Pleven and Truman were in agreement as to policy in the far east, especially in Korea and Indochina.

Most observers agreed the talks would open the way for greater co-operation among the western nations in the defense of Europe, with much greater participation on the part of France.

Controls

Price administrator Michael V. DiSalle (right) looks on as Attorney General J. Howard McGrath administers the oath of office to 13 officials who head regional and district offices of the economic stabilization organization. These men will direct the price-wage freeze laws.

DRAFT:

Bitter Controversy

The all-powerful house armed-services committee stepped into the bitter controversy over drafting 18-year-olds for armed service duty with an order to the defense department to consider raising the top draft age from 26 to 30 as an alternative.

The move virtually put a stop to the department's plan of drafting 18-year-olds. Congress may still act on the measure, however, which the defense department reports would provide between 350,000 and 450,000 men during the first year.

Also in the draft news was the announcement by the defense department that non-veterans 19 through 25 who have married since the Korean war began June 25, 1950, should be drafted. Only single non-veterans now are being taken.

Plans also were underway to lower the draft standards. This move would provide perhaps 150,000 men now barred for physical and mental reasons.

ECONOMISTS:

Urge Stiffer Taxes

Four hundred economists, members of 30 institutions throughout the country, recently urged the government to increase taxes and tighten controls.

Their views were interesting in that they all believed that emergency fiscal and credit policies, rather than price-wage controls, constitute our primary defense against inflation.

They recommended:

1. Scrutinize carefully all government expenditures and postpone or eliminate those that are not urgent and essential.

2. Raise tax revenues even faster than defense spending grows, so as to achieve and maintain a cash surplus. Merely to balance the budget is not enough.

3. Restrict the amount of credit available to businesses and individuals for purposes not essential to the defense program.

The recommendation to achieve a cash surplus would require a tax increase of more than $16,000,000,000, the minimum required to balance the new budget.

BRITAIN:

One Bite a Day

While the housewives of this country were grumbling about high prices and hoping price controls would help the situation, British housewives were protesting a drastic new cut in that nation's fresh meat ration.

It was the third cut in three months and this time amounted to 20 per cent. It shriveled the ration for each person in Britain to about a bite a day.

KOREA:

Mystery Unsolved

The mystery of what happened to the Chinese armies that pushed United Nations forces south of the 38th parallel and seriously threatened to cut them off from Pusan remained unsolved.

An unexpected lull swept over the Korean battle front as Chinese pressure ceased. Then probing attacks northward by U.N. forces failed to make contact with the main armies of the enemy.

Latest reports told of continued movement of U.N. troops northward and only minor resistance.

The situation raised a number of questions and possibilities. For one thing, it raised the question of whether or not the Communist armies had been hurt to the extent they were unable to continue a strong attack. The possibility seemed unlikely in view of the numbers of men available to the Communists.

There were also rumors to the effect the Communists had suffered severely from cold and disease. There were other reports that the Chinese would not fight below the 38th parallel.

The mystery was still unsolved after two weeks of minor fighting. The battlefield lull also relieved the tension on the political front. The urgency of branding China the aggressor in Korea was lessened.

POLITICS:

Republican Policy

The drums of politics, which will grow louder in the next few months, were sounded by Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio when he called on Republicans to meet head on any Truman "truckling" to Communist sympathizers or any appeasement of Russia.

Taft made it plain that he thought the Republicans could defeat the Democrats in the next presidential election on the issue of foreign policy. Whether or not the campaign shapes up along these lines depends greatly on events in the next few months. On the surface it appears that Senator Taft may face some opposition along this line from within his own party.

Senator Taft's influence with Republicans is tremendous, however. He heads the senate G.O.P. policy committee and has been called the leading Republican contender for the 1952 presidential nomination.

In his own words, this seems to be the core of Taft's policy: "We must meet head on any truckling to Communist sympathizers, any appeasement of Russia which is likely to lead to more aggression, and any waste of our resources with the idea that we can buy the support of nations."

CASUALTY LISTS

Nation's Traffic Deaths Top 966,000

Military deaths in all American wars, including Korea, reached a total of 994,000 near the end of January. And it appears likely, should the Korean conflict continue for several more months, that the total could climb well over the 1,000,000 mark.

Americans in every walk of life, from the big cities to the home towns of the nation, shuddered at the thought. But right on the home front there is another casualty list just as startling. At the end of January the 50-year toll of traffic deaths in this country topped 966,000, or 28,000 fewer than the aggregate of all war deaths up to the present time.

In addition, between 29,500,000 and 30,000,000 have been injured since 1900.

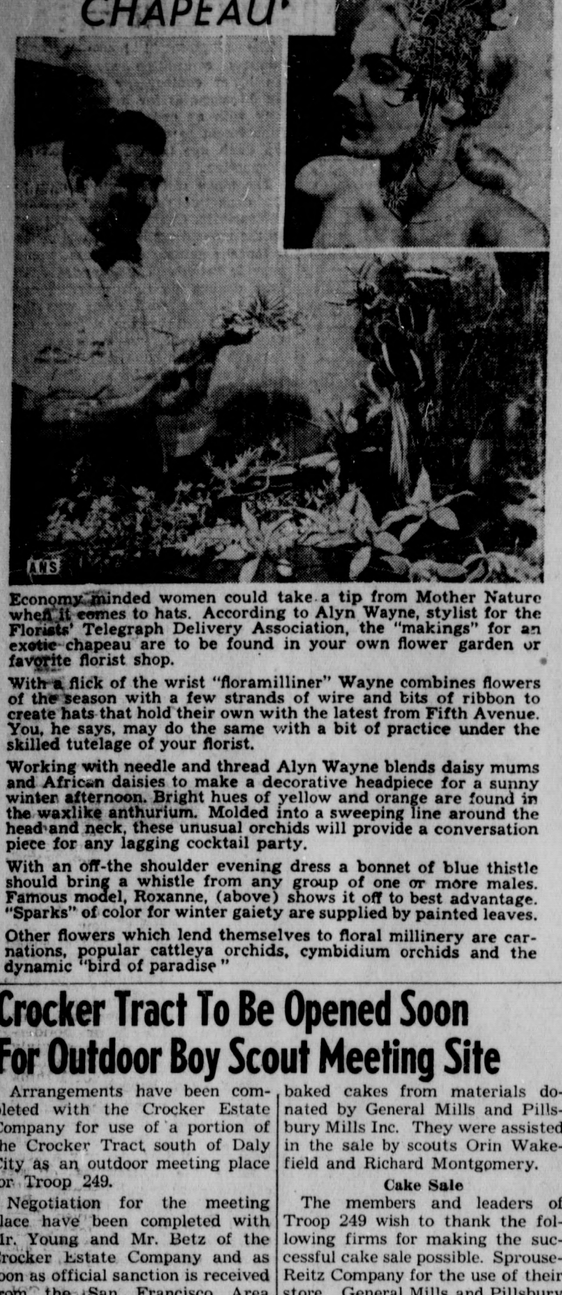
Grow Your Own CHAPEAU



Economy minded women could take a tip from Mother Nature when it comes to hats. According to Alyn Wayne, stylist for the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association, the "makings" for an exotic chapeau are to be found in your own flower garden or favorite florist shop.

With a flick of the wrist "floramilliner" Wayne combines flowers of the season with a few strands of wire and bits of ribbon to create hats that hold their own with the latest from Fifth Avenue. You, he says, may do the same with a bit of practice under the skilled tutelage of your florist.

Working with needle and thread Alyn Wayne blends daisy mums and African daisies to make a decorative headpiece for a sunny winter afternoon. Bright hues of yellow and orange are found in the waxlike anthurium. Molded into a sweeping line around the head and neck, these unusual orchids will provide a conversation piece for any lagging cocktail party.

With an off-the shoulder evening dress a bonnet of blue thistle should bring a whistle from any group of one or more males. Famous model, Roxanne, (above) shows it off to best advantage. "Sparks" of color for winter gaiety are supplied by painted leaves.

Other flowers which lend themselves to floral millinery are carnations, popular cattleya orchids, cymbidium orchids and the dynamic "bird of paradise."

Crocker Tract To Be Opened Soon For Outdoor Boy Scout Meeting Site

Arrangements have been completed with the Crocker Estate Company for use of a portion of the Crocker Tract south of Daly City as an outdoor meeting place for Troop 249.

Negotiation for the meeting place have been completed with Mr. Young and Mr. Betz of the Crocker Estate Company and as soon as official sanction is received from the San Francisco Area Council the troop will conduct all meetings at the new site. The outdoor meeting place is being planned as an adjunct to the troop program of "putting the out in scouting," and will supplement many out of door activities planned for the troop during the summer months.

Advancements

Six members of Troop 249 were advanced in rank at the last Troop meeting, Thursday, February 8th at Bellevue Hall.

A special ceremony marked the dedication of the totem pole which will be the troop symbol and a candle lighting advancement ceremony ushered the scouts into their new rank.

Scouts Bill Gensel, Phil Delucchi, Orin Wakefield and Preston Brown advanced from tenderfoot to second class and scouts Herman Pelz and Michael Traxler advanced from second to first class rank.

The fathers of the boys pinned the new badges on their sons and the boys in turn presented their others with miniature badges of their new rank.

New Scoutmaster

Ed "Budge" Plummer of 864 Beechwood Drive, Broadmoor, has been appointed scoutmaster of Troop 249 succeeding Dick Traxler who has been transferred to Glendale. Mr. Plummer has acted as assistant scoutmaster for the past several months and is at present attending the scoutmasters training course at S. F. City College.

In addition to his duties as scoutmaster, Mr. Plummer plans to inaugurate an explorer post for older scouts in the near future. The troop committee, headed by Bert McKenna, accepted Mr. Traxler's resignation and officially appointed Mr. Plummer to his new post at a meeting held at the home of Orin Wakefield last Tuesday. At that time a new charter application was made.

Week Ends

Marking the end of the national observance of Boy Scout Week, scouts of Troop 249 attended church in a body last Sunday. Dr. William Harberts of Grace Presbyterian church gave a special serman on "A Young Man Who Would Not Defile Himself" and the troop gave the scout oath led by Michael Traxler and the pledge of allegiance to the flag led by Herman Pelz. February 11 was set aside by presidential proclamation as Boy Scout Sunday.

The mother's club of Troop 249 contributed $30 to the troop treasury as the result of a cake sale held at Sprouse-Reitz variety store last month. Mothers of troop members led by Mary Wakefield baked cakes from materials donated by General Mills and Pillsbury Mills Inc. They were assisted in the sale by scouts Orin Wakefield and Richard Montgomery.

Cake Sale

The members and leaders of Troop 249 wish to thank the following firms for making the successful cake sale possible. Sprouse-Reitz Company for the use of their store. General Mills and Pillsbury Mills Inc. for the cake mix used in making the cakes.

Camping has been the keynote of the activities of Troop 249 Boy Scouts of America during the past month as the boys took to the hills on two overnight camping trips.

Winners

As a result of winning the troop rating prize for excellence in inspection, attendance and advancement the Woodpecker patrol made the first overnight camping trip on the last weekend in January. The patrol pitched their tents at Camp Lilienthal and used that as a base from which they hiked to Lake Lagunitas and Bon Tempe Reservoir in Marin County.

Scouts who attended were Clifford Greep, George Bullwinkle, Dennis Ritcheson, Fred Newton, Lauren Pottinger, Herman Pelz, patrol leader and Larry Neuner and Preston Brown of the troop leaders council. The trip was under the direction of R. F. Traxler, scoutmaster.

Overnight

February 10 marked the season's first overnight for the troop leaders council. The council, made up of the senior officers and patrol leaders, camped overnight at Camp Lillienthal in Marin County.

Scouts who made the trip were Larry Neuner, senior patrol leader, Preston Brown, troop scribe, Orin Wakefield, troop quartermaster, Michael Traxler, patrol leader and Bert McKenna Jr. Leaders of the trip were Ed Plummer and Dick Traxler.

TALK OF THE TOWN

By DIANE DALY

Spring is in the air these days, and also the dreaded viruses, which are closing some schools in the big city, and keep so many folk in our town indisposed.

Though there are more people down with the "flu" this year than I ever remember before, the local situation is by far, one of the mildest. This may be, because of our fresh air, and wide open spaces, which minimize the contamination and spread of the "cold bugs."

On the brighter side are the many Spring activities, which are getting under way with a new zest—Spring "showings" of all varieties seem to be the order of the day, but crowding everything (and everyone) off to one side, have been the Perambulator parades.

★

DOUBLE TALK:

Among the little folk receiving their initial "outings," were the twin granddaughters of Mrs. Johannah Warshawski, Hillary and Radine, two months old. Their mother, Mrs. Raymond Pettingill, was also a twin, her sister being Mrs. Crahenbuhl, better known in these parts as Jane and Maxine, daughters of the late and well-loved Henry Warshawski.

★

NEAR TRAGEDY:

Seriously fracturing her skull, after an accidental fall, was little Joel De Leon, eight-months-old daughter of the Henry J. De Leons, 2971 Alemany boulevard. Although she was not hospitalized, she has been under constant examination, for complications, but as time progresses, her chances are becoming much better for complete recovery.

★

SHADES OF THE FOREIGN LEGION:

Well known in VFW circles, that popular Broadmoor couple, the Bob Franklins, recently rented their home, and are en route to Tangiers, Africa. Bob will work for U. S. Radio Station, "Voice of America," and Marge is expected to beam back all the latest intrigue of this desert metropolis.

★

SOUTHWEST BOUND:

Tuesday evening passengers of the Starlight Special train, were Mrs. Rev. Harberts, accompanied by her five-year-old granddaughter Linda, of Berkeley. She will visit her daughter, Gertrude Marion Harberts, who is director of Religious Education at First Church Burbank.

FAMILY FUN:

Arranging a festive, family get-together dinner on the occasion of her son, Bob's birthday, was Mrs. Margaret Enright, 29 Muirwood Drive. Assisting as a cake frosting sampler, and interior decorator, was a newcomer, eight months old Kathleen, who did a pretty good of both.

★

HEARTS AND FLOWERS:

A beautiful wedding took place Sunday afternoon, when Theresa Mabon and Frederick Revetria, exchanged vows before the altar of St. Michaels Church in Ocean View. Father Mulhvill officiated.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mabon, 15 Patridge Lane, was given in marriage by her father.

Her gown of white satin, in Empire style, was trimmed with side tiers of lace, and she wore a shirred satin crown, trimmed with rosebuds, from which fell a fingertip veil.

Attending her, in a pale blue organdy gown with bouffant skirt, was Patricia Williford. Her other attendant, Shirley Szaccki, wore a similarly designed gown in pale yellow. Both wore flower trimmed headbands and carried matching bouquets. The bride's bouquet was of white bouvardia and carnations centered with white orchids.

Following the afternoon nuptials, a recreation dinner was held at The Club Casino where places were set for 60. Receiving were Mrs. Mabon, who wore a navy blue model dress with white pique trim, and Mrs. J. R. Revetria, attired in a dusty rose dressmaker suit, ith brown accessories. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

The bride formerly attended Mercy High in Burlingame. The benedict, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Revetrias, 526 Ellington Avenue, is a graduate of Balboa High.

The young couple will reside in San Francisco.

Lynne Pancost, professional model, who resides in Broadmoor, is dusting off some charm school tactics to rehearse models for the coming fashion show. The show, sponsored by the PTA, will be held with a tea at Jefferson High School March 10. Mark your calendar, girls. This is sure to be a winner.

GET WELL WISHES:

Friends of Mrs. Dorothy Stewart, 139 Vista Grande, will be glad to know that she is resting comfortably after an operation at Stanford Hospital.

★

ROD AND GUN CIRCUIT:

The District Council No. 7 of the Associated Sportsmen of California, met recently at the Lake Merced boathouse. On hand to serve refreshments at the monthly conclave were members of the Daly City Sportswomen Club.

★

HEARTS AND TRUMPS:

Busy recruiting "homemade cakes" from our town's best cooks is Dora Black, 109 San Diego St. They will be served with coffee at the dessert-whist which will be held at the Eagles Hall February 20, at 1 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Duckering were honor guests at the prevalentine party held early this month at the Masonic Hall. It was given by the Crocker Chapter, OES.

Places were set for 124, and the favors were red silk covered hearts centered with lace and lavender. A dramatic skit was presented for entertainment by a group of Job's Daughters, Bethel No. 198. The girls interpreted the lavendar and lace theme with Gay 90s flavor.

★

STORK DATING:

Mrs. George Clennel, recently of Daly City, was the recipient of a baby shower given at the home of Mrs. Robert McIntosh, 1012 Pacheco Street in the Sunset. Attending from Daly City were Mesdames: L. S. Jennings, Arthur White, H. S. Holcomb and Marvin Booth.

★

SODA FOUNTAIN SET:

Dave Maroney, 417 Santa Barbara, a recent addition to Daly City, winning out as newly elected president of the Mission High School student body.

Pat McCool, Jefferson High's new prexy, surrounded with a highly decorative executive body including Beverly Heagney, Shirley Huntington and Joanne Van Vliet. Milt Tromborg, Floyd Gonella and Izzy Galente make up the rest of the group.

Graduating from bat boy of last year . . Don Rode, 1066 Hanover Street, to assistant trainer of the San Francisco Seals.

Beverly Heagney was hostess to a number of friends at her home, 117 Miriam Street. Attending were: Ed Cereghino, Janet Schreiber, Bob Varni, Jackie Fellson, Pauline Burns, Al Johnson, Joan Beecher and Jean Martinez.

A big frilly Valentine to Jeanette Costa, talented Daly City girl, who was seen on Del Courtney's Sunday Talent Parade. Jeanette just graduated from Jefferson, and we wish her success.

Taking over the Rolladium, in San Mateo, Monday night, February 12, was Mr. Howard Miguels' Spanish Club from Jeff, some 250 strong, including students, teachers and parents too! Everyone had a wonderful time!

★

INITIATION:

The Benjamin Franklin Hotel will be the setting for the forthcoming Sheriff's Posse Installation Dinner, scheduled for Saturday, February 24th.

A dinner-dance in the offing for members of the Westlake Improvement Club.

★

VISITORS:

Honeymooners visiting here, from Sacramento, were Mr. and Mrs. John Walker, who were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Crispi, 1 Parma Street.

TO BEAT THE BAND:

Working at an increased tempo to complete outfits for the W. W. Rhythm Band were Mrs. Henry Adami, president of the Woodrow Wilson PTA, and her committee. The group will make their debut at the PTA evening meeting, slated for February 20 at 7:30 o'clock. The young folks will be quite as glamorous as a grown up band, you can bet.

★

SOAP OPERA:

The new "Lives of Sweeney and March" show that follows the Johnny Olsen interviews beamed from New York, and received over KGO, will no doubt cause a local reaction.

This, no doubt due to the fact, that the fictional characters, Bob Sweeney and Hal March, call Daly City their home town. They refer to this community from time to time in nostalgic and endearing terms.

I am happy to report that the new program is on the lighter side, and really not in the category of the gushy "soap opera."

To the public at large: Our local Sweeney families have all their sons accounted for, and none are loose in New York looking for jobs.

FOR THE COOKIE JAR:

Sometime this week, the Girl Scouts will get around to your house, selling the boxes of delicious cookies, which any homemaker can put to practical use. If you knew the time and effort, and the degree of pride these youngsters take in the project, you would not turn them away, disappointed. The monies collected go towards summer encampment facilities, so badly needed. Now is as good a time as ever to fill that cookie jar, so get several boxes. You'll be getting more than your money's worth.

FERRITES IMPROVE TELEVISION

Ferrites, ceramic-like magnetic materials used in various parts of television equipment, have caused a marked increase in the demand for nickel oxide. Containing 10 to 15 per cent nickel oxides, ferrites used in transformers and yokes have made possible the use of wider angle deflections, hence, shorter receiving picture tubes permitting more compact cabinets.

BAYSHORE VISITACION VALLEY

By Bernice Hendryx JUniper 4-6449

The February 28 date, set for the blood-mobile unit in Visitacion is now official. Residents of Bayshore who will donate blood, will be able to use the near-by Community center for their donations.

The pledge cards for this drive have not been forthcoming as yet. Due to the lack of cards, this drive has not had a chance to be built up and assume the proportions that it should. We are reduced to printing our own pledge cards, and we hope to have them in circulation within the next day or so.

The Red Cross has notified us that the last fifteen minutes of each hour will be set aside for residents of the community. The rest of the time will be given to employes of the industries and business houses and different organizations in the community, and the hours will be from ten in the morning until six in the evening. If sufficient reason is given for being unable to get there until six o'clock or later, special appointments can be made.

Transportation

Although the Community center is close by, it is still just far enough away to raise the question of transportation. The Red Cross supplies station-wagons for donors to the mobile units, and we are hoping that the people that wish transportation will be picked up promptly. However, if the system breaks down, there are several residents here that have offered to have their cars available the entire day to pick up residents of Bayshore and take them across the valley.

There is one point that should be considered when thinking of donations of blood. It is unnecessary to point out to most of us the vital need of blood for our armed forces. At the present time, there is a wave of colds and flu going around that makes it impossible for a great many people to pledge themselves that would otherwise give gladly. Unfortunately, the war doesn't come to a stand-still when these things happen, and the need is just as great as when we are all reasonably healthy. As a result, many people here and elsewhere must step forward to take the place of many who are awake to the need, but cannot give their blood now. Keep in mind that this is not just another charity. Big industry has shown us the fact that fortunes are built on supply and demand. In this case, it is not a question of money. The demand is there, and the supply means putting a lot of boys back on their feet, so that they can come home.

Activities

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Way, formally of the Naval Project, stopped in to say hello to their many friends the other day. Mr. Way is just in from Guam, and enroute to Washington.

The ladies auxilliary of the Fire Department gave a dinner last Saturday night for the firemen. The dinner was followed by a lot of good listening, in the form of accordion music, supplied by the Scatena boys and Frankie Armas.

The Founder's Day program, given by the Bayshore PTA on February 9, saw a fair crowd, considering the illness in the valley. Two district officers were present, along with five of our own teachers. A number of old members that have not put in an appearance for years were on hand. The children's performance was exceptionally good, and several of their little musical skits brought forth roars of merriment.

PTA Meeting

There will be a Cub Pack meeting on February 23, at 7:30 p.m. at the school auditorium. Parents are urged to attend. This meeting will also be a blue and gold birthday party, commorating the 41st year of Boy Scouts.

The Bayshore PTA old clothes drive starts February 26, and runs through to March 1. Children will go door to door, and clothing that is still relatively good will not be sold for rags, but be sold at the PTA Bazaar, that will be held on April 4. Last year, rayon rags were not acceptable, but this year anything goes. Cotton, wool, silk, and rayon rags are welcome, and a prize will be given to the classroom that brings in the greatest poundage. Turn out your basements and drawers now, and pile up all those skirts that are too short, and those dresses that fit just a bit too snug. All children's wear is particularly welcome in this community of bouncing new oabies.

Church Service

The Sunday morning topic at the Bayshore Baptist Church will be "The Sincerity of Love." The evening topic will be "A Dangerous Enemy."

The Junior Choir now meets Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, for the information of those interested.

There will be a Christian Business Men's Association dinner on February 20 at 6 p.m. in Redwood City. Reservations may be made through the pastor.

Jefferson High Play

FAMOUS STAGE FAMILY PORTRAYED IN "FAMILY CIRCLE" MARCH - - 2

The name "Skinner" has been famous in the American theatre for two generations so it is indeed logical that the American public should enjoy seeing a play based on the lives of the members of this outstanding family.

"Family Circle," a play about Cornelia Otis Skinner, will be presented by Jefferson Union High School on March 1 and 2 in the High School Auditorium under the direction of Miss Eunice Seaton.

Otis Skinner was one of the great Shakespearean actors of the period at the turn of the century and his wife, Maud Durbin, was a fine actress who gave up the theatre when she married Mr. Skinner. It was only natural that their daughter should take up a career on the stage where she has not only achieved success but where she has extensively used the medium of monologue to the delight of her audience.

Struggles

"Family Circle" is a play about Cornelia's struggles as a high school girl to convince her parents that she too has dramatic talent and should be allowed to start her career on the stage. As president of her dramatic society she produces some scenes from Shakespeare which are a "flop." She moans, but a surprise from her father makes everything right.

Miss Seaton has chosen to produce this play "in the round," an arrangement in which the acting area will be in the center of the auditorium and the audience will sit on all four sides. This type of theatre ensures perfect vision and hearing for each member of the audience, but it also limits the seating capacity to 200 so get your tickets from the High School or at McGraw Drug Store as soon as possible.

Large Cast

In the cast of the play Beverly Bendinelli will play the part of Cornelia Otis Skinner and Ronald Quint and Mary Lou Morris will portray her mother and father. Her best friend and confidant, Mab, will be played by Janice Sproule and members of her dramatic committee, Enid, Grace and Amy, will be played by Nella Bacon, Shirley McIntyre and Jo Ann Gordohn. The part of Cornelia's heart throb, Charlie, will be taken by Bob Kalinin and the other boys, William, Henry and Gordon will be played by Don Benando, Ario Gregori and Gary Larson. Joan de Vore will take the part of Abby, the Skinners' bewildered maid. Jean London is the student director.

"Family Circle" will be presented two nights, March 1 and 2 at 8:15 p. m. in the High School auditorium.

OLPH Mothers Club

Series Of Events From Luncheon To Communion Breakfast Are Planned

The Mothers' Club of O. L. P. H. held its regular meeting February 9, in the school auditorium.

Having awakened from its post-holiday hibernation, the Club had plenty of business to take under consideration, and from the looks of things, it will be a busy spring.

President Mary Calegari started off by introducting Miss Mary Ann Fugina of the San Mateo County Department of Public Health and Welfare. Miss Fugina is a public health nurse for the county Health Department and is present at the school on Tuesday mornings on a consultant basis.

Any mother who wishes to consult Miss Fugina about her child may do so at that time. Miss Fugina thanked the Mothers' Club for providing the services of two of its members, Mrs. Mildred Barone and Mrs. Josephine Lamendola, who volunteer their services at the Well Baby Clinic in Colma.

Dental Care

Miss Fugina then introduced Dr. Bernard McMurdo, a member of the County Health Education Committee of San Mateo County Dental Society. Dr. McMurdo spoke at some length on the subject of dental care for the child and the prevention of tooth decay through the use of proper diet and mouth hygiene. The mothers were especially interested in the flourination of the public water supply, as it is an established fact that 60% reduction in tooth decay has followed this process.

President Mary Calegari then announced the Mothers' Club luncheon called "Luncheon Is Served" which has been planned for February 22, at 12:30 p.m. in the school auditorium, 80 Wellington Avenue.

The public is invited to attend. Luncheon will be served for adults and for children.

Whist Game

The monthly dessert-whist will be held, as usual, on the first Tuesday of the month, March 6, at 1:00 p.m. The mothers of the Kindergarten pupils will form the committee, with Mrs. Edna Cubic in charge of the whist and Mrs. Vinal in charge of refreshments. The whist will be held in the School Auditorium.

The Mothers' Club will attend Mass in a body at the 8 o'clock Mass on February 25. A delicious breakfast ("the works") will be served in the School Cafeteria immediately after the Mass. Members of the Holy Name Society will prepare and serve breakfast to the ladies and since these gentlemen are superb cooks, the members have a treat in store for them.

Good Spirit

There is a nice friendly spirit here between these two parish societies as the members of the Mothers' Club will serve the Holy Name Society their breakfast on Sunday, February 18.

Honored guests at the Mothers' Club Communion-Breakfast will be Father William C. Stewart, the club's moderator, and Mrs. John J. Murray, vice president of the Archdiocese Council of the National Council of Catholic Women, who will be the guest speaker.

Next under discussion came the Mothers' Club annual spring luncheon and fashion show. This affair has been very popular for the past two years and will be repeated by popular demand. It is a gala day when all the ladies sit around in their Sunday-go-meeting clothes and party manners and have a grand time admiring glamorous models in the latest styles.

Problems

Last year four of the club's members gave the professional models a bit of competition, while the rest of us indulged in a lot of wishful thinking as the swishy clothes were displayed.

Problem: How to squeeze a Size 40 into a Size 12 dress?

Mrs. Calegari named the following chairman for the affair, more details to be announced later:

General chairman, Mrs. Mary Calegari; Co-chairman, Mrs. Valetta Enis; Tickets & Reservations, Mrs. Janet Fellman and Mrs. Catherine Ricci; Decorations, Mrs. Isabelle Liberti and Mrs. Marion Balestreri; Investment, Mrs. Ruth Cresta; Tables, Mrs. Ann Drury and Mrs. Maureen Malloy; Hostesses, Mrs. Mary Thiebaut and Mrs. Elinor McDougal; Luncheon, Mrs. Hazel Sullivan; Door Prizes, Mrs. Susan Schroeder.

New Moderator

Father William C. Stewart, the club's new moderator, was then introduced and spoke briefly to the members. Father Stewart, who is well-known to the members of the Mothers' Club, has replaced Father Adrian McKenna, who has taken up duties as Assistant Pastor at Queen of All Saints Church in Concord, California.

Utterly exhausted by all this business, the members then refreshed themselves with ice-cream, Girl Scout cookies (Have you a little Brownie in your home?) and coffee, prepared by mothers of the second grade children.

Overstreets To Lecture In Burlingame On Motives Of Men Thursday, March 1

Provocative title of an unusual lecture to be given by the distinguished husband and wife team of Dr. Harry and Mrs. Bonaro Overstreet at the Burlingame High school auditorium on Thursday evening, March 1, is "Exploring the Motives of Men."

For their first appearance together of The Peninsula, the Overstreets are being sponsored by the Seventeenth District California Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Mrs. Edward J. Foley of Burlingame ,district chairman of parent education, has arranged for the Overstreets, who will make an effective team presentation called the "Overstreet Colloquy." From their many years as co-workers and teachers in the field of human relations, they have developed this joint method which shares a combined and individual expertness about philosophy, psychology, and education with warmth and thoughtfulness.

Well Known

Both speakers are nationally known authors credited with numerous books and magazine articles. Most talked of volume by Bonaro Overstreet probably is "How To Stay Alive As Long As You Live"; also her's are "A Search For Self" and "Freedom's People." "The Mature Mind" by Dr. Overstreet, a familiar book-of-the-month club best-seller, of course is widely read, and many more have enjoyed "When Children Come First," co-authored by the Overstreets, which tells of the PTA movement in America.

Credit Given

Further recommendation for this outstanding event is the institute credit for teachers that has been granted by James Tormey, county superintendent of schools. Other organizations also are welcoming an exceptional opportunity to hear the Overstreets, since their classes for adults and university students in Territory of Hawaii, California, Michigan, New York and Virginia have had popular appeal.

Meet The Authors

Peninsula people can meet these authors, and participate in the question period at the close of the evening. Tickets are available through every PTA in San Mateo county at a nominal cost, which will be slightly more at the door the night of the lecture. The program opens at 8 p.m., and it is hoped that no one will be disappointed by not securing a ticket before that evening.

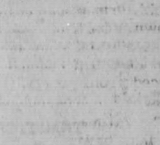
Hadacol Helps New Mother

HADACOL Supplies Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron in Which Her System Was Deficient

Mrs. Lottie F. Edwards, who lives at Route 1, Inverness, Miss., has two careers . . . she is a registered nurse and also a wife and mother of a new baby. After her baby was born, Mrs. Edwards felt rundown; she knew she had to do something to help overcome this condition so that she would feel up to her many duties. Mrs. Edwards began taking HADACOL and says it really helped her. Mrs. Edwards was suffering a deficiency of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL contains.



Mrs. Edwards

Here is what Mrs. Edwards says: "I have taken one bottle of your HADACOL and am now on my second bottle, and I can say it has really helped me. After my baby came I didn't feel like walking around, I had headaches and was very nervous, and even one bottle has helped me so much. I want to keep on taking your wonderful HADACOL. I will certainly recommend it to all patients I come in contact with, for I think HADACOL is just the formula needed for Vitamin and Mineral deficiency."

Registered nurses, in increasing numbers, are showing a keen interest in HADACOL and in the results that are being secured with this great modern formula. Requests have been received from many of these nurses for professional bottles of HADACOL and many of them indicated that they recommend the HADACOL formula to their patients. HADACOL has helped folks of all ages when their condition was due to a deficiency of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron, elements which are contained in HADACOL.

Remember HADACOL is sold on a strict money-back guarantee. And so inexpensive. Trial-size bottle only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, La.

ADVERTISING IS AN INVESTMENT TOWARD THE PERPETUAL GROWTH OF PROFITABLE BUSINESS

PARTNERSHIPS and EFFECTS . .

IN a partnership the individual status of each of the contracting parties is bound to have a tremendous effect on the other. Each one is concerned about the furtherance of the other's prosperity, and will himself profit thereby. Whatever he does in the interest of his partner will prove of benefit to him as well.

Whether individuals or organizations stand in this relation to one another, they are partners, even though there may have been no conscious recognition of the fact.

Viewed from this standpoint, the newspaper and its advertisers are partners. The more prosperous the advertiser, the greater amount of advertising he can give the newspaper. The greater the amount of advertising in the newspaper, the greater will be its news and feature sections.

The higher the advertiser stands in the estimation of the public, the more effective does his advertising become as a means of raising the standard of his advertising medium. It is assuredly to the best interests of the newspaper to do all in its power to bring success to its advertisers.

For the advertiser, the most important asset of a newspaper is a well-balanced healthy circulation and the confidence of the reading public. The most desirable partner for any advertiser is the newspaper in any given locality which possesses these assets in the most marked degree.

We believe we speak advisedly when we say we are in a position to serve your advertising needs on a maximum basis for the all important points of reader interest, circulation, general features and community prestige.

Our advertising staff is in a position to assist you with new ideas in high-level merchandising facts and figures. Also, to help you with your copy, layouts and selection of art and illustration. Naturally, there is no charge for this valuable service.

JEFFERSON QUINTETS (JR. AND SR.) DROP TWO PAL LEAGUE CONTESTS

San Jose And San Mateo Squads Prove Too Much For Local Indians

Loss of five Jefferson players to graduation recently, took the toll last Friday and Tuesday when the varsity dropped games to San Jose and San Mateo respectively.

The light weights had no more luck, and equally lost to both opponents.

Friday, it was an inexperienced crew that tangled with fourth place San Jose and came out with 31 points to the Bulldog's 56.

At intermission the Bulldogs, on their own court, were ahead by 29 to 18. They continued to fight right to the finish.

High point man for Jeff was Bob Varni, forward, who ran up 14 points.

The Indian 130s also went down for the count 38 to 30. However, they came within a few points of beating the Bulldog 130s, but faltered in the last minute of the game, when San Jose scored 10 points.

Tuesday's San Mateo won a close one from the Jeff varsity 42 to 33. The 130's were sunk by a 35 to 27 score.

While the 'Cats were ahead for most of the varsity tussle, the Indians put away three quick baskets in the final quarter to pull within one point of a win.

Don Wilson was high point man for Jeff with 11 counters.

This Friday Jefferson returns to the home court to batle it out with Willow Glen.

Zany Baseball To Be Presented At Annual Show

Baseball in its zaniest form will be presented at the sixth annual San Francisco-Oakland Sports, Travel & Boat Show, March 2-11, with Jackie Price, Crown Prince of the diamond, displaying his wizardry of the outdoor game indors at Civic Auditorium.

As an added attraction, the show management will present for the first time in its six year history, a pitching machine, used by the Oakland Oaks baseball team. The machine will be shuttled daily between the Oaks training camp at Sonoma and the show during the sports spectacle ten day run. The pitching innovation is used by the Acorns to develop the players' eye and hitting power. The machine will be placed inside a net and sports fans will be encouraged to step inside and take healthy cuts at the ball.

Thrills Fans

Price, whose antics on baseball fields have thrilled fans throughout the country, will bring the unusual techniques of the game indoors. The hearty madcap will give exhibitions of catching and hitting while standing on his head and while dangling by his feet from a cross bar. Included in his repertoire is throwing three baseballs at the same time, each one a strike over the plate, and making impossible catches with his back to the pitcher.

His prowess as a slugger will be demonstrated with his "cue stick" slugging wizardry, whereby he hits the ball with either end of the bat, while prone, standing on his head, and straddling a cross bar.

Paradise

Mammoth Civic Auditorium will be converted into a sportsmen's paradise with the magic of the outdoors brought indoors. The latest innovations for the sportsmen from lures to rods and dinghys to deluxe cabin cruisers will be exhibited around a 30 by 60 indoor lake set in the center of the giant exposition building. Tourist bureaus, dude ranches and resorts from Canada to Mexico will show their magic wonderland attractions.

The majetic myriad of exhibits will be highlighted with the presentation of two 75 minute floor shows at 4 and 9 p.m. daily. Doors to the annual sports exposition are open from 1 to 11 p.m. daily during the show's ten day run.

"Mama, Kathleen ate the aspirin," William declared.

"No, William did," Kathleen replied.

Blaze Busters Turn Out To Fight Carton Fire

A match and several empty cartons accounted for three fire engines turning out at 10:45 Sunday night.

The only fire of the weekend was reported in front of Gerold's Liquor store, where someone had set fire to a stack of empty cardboard cartons.

The blaze was quickly brought under control, and the damage was nill, Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy reported today.

1950 Hunters Bag 49,000 Deer

California's deer hunters last year took a total of 49,185 deer from all of the State's 58 counties, according to final reports just issued by the Division of Fish and Game.

The 1950 total is down from the record-breaking kill of 52,454 deer in 1949, but is the second highest in State history. The annual county is made from validated deer tags returned to the State agency by successful hunters.

At least three factors account for the slightly lower take last year, according to sportsmen and Division spokesmen. The most prevalent hindrance to another record-breaking harvest was unfavorable weather conditions. The outbreak of foot rot disease among deer in some northern California counties, and the confusion caused by "one again-off again" county fire closure arrouncements probably reduced the annual bag.

Included in the final tally are figures from three special deer hunts conducted by lottery permits. A total of 1,319 deer were taken from the Devil's Garden area of Modoc County; 677 from the Federal Mineral King refuge in Tulare County; and 61 from Catalina Island.

Jefferson Night League

Sarto A.C. Sure To Win First Honors But What Team Will Come In Second?

With just two more Tuesday evening games to go in the Jefferson High School Night Basketball League, two things appear certain: Sarto will come out on top, and Hoyt Heaters will be on the bottom rung.

The only question is, who will hold the second and third spot.

Last Tuesday Sarto came through to whip the Veteran's Inn 45 to 25, and Ralph's Cleaners downed Hoyt 39 to 36. This puts the Vets and the Cleaners both in second place with two wins and two defeats each.

Bob Savelli was the key man for Sarto in their game with Veteran's Inn. During the course of the trial, Savelli shot eight baskets and one free throw for 17 points.

In the Cleaners game, the lads from Ralph almost went down in defeat. During the course of the contest, Hoyt Heaters was right out in front until the last two minutes. Then one of the Cleaners got out of hand and fired two baskets to tie up the game.

Harold Mosman was the spark plug for Hoyt Heaters. Although it was his first game in the league this season, Mosman ran up 16 points.

Meeting at Jefferson High School's gym Tuesday, beginning at 7.20 p.m. will be: Sarto vs. Hoyt and Vet's Inn vs. Ralphs.

Veterans

NSLI Pamphlet Now Available

The latest available information on all aspects of National Service Life Insurance has been gathered into a single pamphlet now obtainable from the Veterans Service Office, Courthouse, Redwood City.

The pamphlet, a recent revision of a similar one issued three years ago, contains an explanation of the laws and regulations governing NSLI and a series of tables showing premium rates and other dollars-and-cents information.

The Veterans Administration issued the pamphlet for veterans of World War II and for members of the armed forces and their dependents, according to Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer. He said it would be particularly valuable to veterans whose original term policies are nearly the expiration date and who are in doubt about whether to renew their term insurance or convert it to one of the six permanent plans of NSLI.

Businessmen Asked To Attend Meet

The first of a series of Conferences to consider ways in which businessmen can aid the nation's defense effort and what they can do to maintain a strong civilian economy gets underway Tuesday, February 20, at 7:30 p.m. at South San Francisco City Hall.

These conferences are under the direction of Earl H. Kieselhorst, management training specialist, of the Distributive Education service of the California State Department of Education. Kieselhorst has an extensive background of practical experience as merchandising consultant to leading department store and chain store organizations. He has conducted retail merchandising and sales training programs for thousands of Northern California merchants. He is one of the organizers of the Aids to Small Business Shows that have become an integral part of the annual California State Fair.

Joseph A. Pless, director, adult education; Thomas B. Kay, president, Businessmen's Association, and Leonard D. McLeod, secretary, Chamber of Commerce, urge every business owner, manager, and key employe concerned about today's business uncertainties — merchandise shortages, taxes, wage, price, credit and manpower controls, etc. —to attend these important conferences.

"The only certainty today is change," Pless stated. "We need business management that is flexible and quick to change according to circumstance. By attempting to uncover the critical problems confronting business today, South San Francisco and the neighboring city merchants will be prepared to make wise decisions leading to more efficient business operation."

A Case Where The Record Gave Lincoln The Axe

As noted by more than one observant reader, February 12 is usually set aside to mark the birthday of Lincoln . . . not Washington, as reported in last week's Record.

Our apologies to both gentlemen, and the historians,

Nevertheless, in city hall a holiday is a holiday regardless of whose birthday falls on February 12 or 22. Consequently, the hall will be closed down February 22, Washington's birthday, for all business except with the police department.

NICKEL ALLOY STEELS

Nickel alloy steels, including those containing chromium and molybdenum, were employed in large tonnages during 1950. These steels find applications in essential constituent parts, such as shafting, gears, structural tubing and heavy springs, for the aircraft, automotive, agricultural machinery, machine tool, mining, petroleum, railroad and other industries.

LONG-LASTING EXHAUST PIPES

Of growing importance is the use of Inconel, a nickel-chromium-iron alloy, for exhaust stacks and pipes on motor trucks, buses, and tractors where some units which have given upwards of 300,000 miles of service are still in use, compared with an average of 25,000 to 45,000 miles for mild steel.

California Looks To The Rain Makers To Stem Off Periods Of Drought

Although the state of California officially has no connection with the art of making rain, it nevertheless is interested in experiments and the Water Resources Board is developing a file to be used when and if the rain makers are put under state bureaucracy.

A. C. Edmonston, state engineer, and chief of the Division of Water Resources, said he hopes to have an observer in the Santa Clara county area where experiments over Anderson Dam are scheduled as the result of action of the Santa Clara Board of Supervisors, which recently voted $10,000 for rain-making experiments.

No Experiments

The state, Edmonston said, will have nothing to do with the experiments, and if present, will be in the role of observer.

Several bills are before the state legislature requestnig state licensing and supervision of rain-makers. At the present time there is no such supervision, and private firms carry out rain-making contracts with organizations or public bodies through the procedure of seeding clouds with dry ice or silver iodide.

The measures, however, do not seek to make rain-making a state project—rather, they merely provide for regulation of the private firms under terms of the bills, particularly senate bill 617 by James E. Cunningham, newly elected Senator from San Bernardino county. This bill declares that the public health, safety, welfare and necessity require that "scientific experimentation in the field of artificial nucleation" be developed and sets up a procedure for regulation through the water resources board.

Report Made

Some reports have been made to the board already on the subject of rain-making and one of these is a paper by Stuart A. Cundiff, engineer for the California Electric Power Company, which operates in the South Eastern portion of California over the Inyo and Mono county watersheds on the east side of the Sierra.

The paper says that from the best estimates that can be made from the recorded efforts of this company over a period of time to increase natural rainfall by artificial means, the actual increase is from 12 to 14 per cent of the run-off yield of water from a given area.

The concern's index figures indicated that the artificial rain making process put an additional 6,500 acre feet of water in its storage basin, which translated to terms of kilowatt hours, meant an increase of 14,300,000 KW for the company.

Cloud Seeding

The cloud seeding, it was pointed out, is economically feasible, although the cost per kilowatt hour was not broken down.

Officials of the division of water resources pointed out that a sustained increase of this amount in storage basins throughout the state could mean the difference between a successful irrigation year and one in which water runs short. Whether this could be done in all sections of the state, however, remains a problem, for the simple reason there are only so many clouds which can be made to give up their moisture. Development of state regulation may take the course of telling the cloud seeders when and where to operate.

Good Neighbor, Guatemala

Mobilizing America has taken a new interest in an old neighbor — Guatemala. According to a report by the Inter-American Development Commission, the Central American democracy is one of the last reservoirs of such strategic materials as lead, zinc and copper. In addition to its enormous crops of coffee and bananas, Guatemala could quickly expand in hardwoods, rubber and essential oils.

Already more than 50,000 vacationing Americans, hesitating to go to war-jittery Europe, have applied for tourist cards to visit Guatemala this winter and spring. They'll follow the trail of Spanish Conquistadores into a land of fascinating beauty. Guatemala's coastlines, on both the Caribbean and the Pacific, are green ribbons of tropical wonderland. Its interior is a healthful, invigorating highland of great mountains and volcanos, sudden, orchid-filled valleys and ruined cities of the Ancient Mayas. All this just four and a half hours by air from either New Orleans or Miami.

American business men are finding Guatemala's economy thoroughly stable. Its currency, the quetzal, is equal to the American dollar. More important to the potential investor, there are no exchange headaches; dollars can be freely taken in or out of the country. But most important to a lot of people—there's no income tax. P.S.: One thousand Americans either have jobs or own businesses in Guatemala.

Guatemala is one of those rare phenomena in Latin America, a truly democratic, constitutional republic. Internationally, it supports the Good Neighbor Policy and the cause of democracy. It was Dr. Ismael González Arevalo, Guatemala's Foreign Minister, who, at the last session of the U. N. General Assembly, dramatically called for one minute of silence in honor of United Nations dead in Korea.

Under the humanitarian administration of President Juan José Arévalo, the country has made remarkable strides towards solving the social and economic problems that plague much of Latin America. Today, there is free compulsory education for all children from 7 to 14. Two thousand adult education centers teach grown-ups to read and write. A network of nursery schools and feeding centers serve 15,000 underprivileged children a day. There's even a "Boys' Town," modeled on Father Flanagan's famous community.

President Arévalo, scrupulously adhering to the Constitution, was not a candidate during the recent national elections. Col. Jacobo Arbenz Guzmán won the popular vote by a large majority over several candidates. He'll take office March 15, 1951.

Big Jim Kennedy -- City Councilman With An Optimistic Eye On The Future

As a member of one of Daly City's founding families, big, handsome Jim Kennedy made a name for himself on the golf links long before he broke into politics, and a chair on the city council last year.

Although he is rightfully proud of being the scion of a pioneer family, Kennedy admits this didn't help him much when it came to getting a start as a golfer. The truth of the matter was that there were so many Kennedys, 10 in all, that Jim was almost forced onto the golfing green.

Pennies Count

"With 10 kids every penny counted," Jim recalls. "So, when I was eight years old I shouldered a golf bag as a caddy at Lake Merced Golf Course. I kept that job, on and off, until I graduated from Jefferson High School."

In between carrying golf bags for others, Jim had enough time to practice on his own game. He got to be a pretty "fair" player, and a few years after leaving Jeff he had won the champions cup at the Crystal Springs Club.

Come 1948, he was so "fair" that he copped the San Francisco Golf title, and represented that city at the National Public Links tournament in Atlanta, Georgia. He didn't win in Atlanta, but he admits he enjoyed the southern hospitality.

Time Flys

"Funny thing, though," Jim noted, "I haven't played much golf since 1948. Where does the time go?"

There isn't an answer to that one, but one the whole, time has done well by Kennedy. At 35 he retains the same athlete's build, (minus a few strands of hair) that became so well known both at Jefferson Elementary School and Jefferson High School back in the late '20s and early '30s.

Not only was he playing a wicked golf game in his 'teens, but Kennedy had already run up an enviable record as a baseball player, basketball star, tennis ace and football player. As one of the leading athletes in Jefferson High, combined with a quick smile and wining personality, Kennedy found himself then, as today, a leader among his fellows. He was elected class president, and later student body president while at Jefferson.

Rough Times

A success in his youth, Kennedy had a rougher deal when he graduated from high school. In 1933 jobs were about as numerous as dollars in the pockets of most citizens. Consequently, like so many other graduates of that year, Kennedy was forced to give up San Mateo Junior College for a position with the C.C.C.

"Like I say, we were a big family. And with 10 kids, there wasn't any talk of college during a depression," Kennedy said.

Business Head

After one year in Chico with the C.C.C., Kennedy returned to Daly City and took some commercial courses from a San Francisco school. Now, with some business knowledge, Kenedy launched forth on a series of jobs which from 1934 to 1937 were to include everything from bookkeeping to working in a foundry.

"I must have taken after my father," Kennedy explains. "He was born in England, and before he settled down in Daly City he had been to sea and held numerous other jobs."

Family History

The elder Kennedy arrived here in 1880 and took up residence in a home next to what is now the W. J. Sweeney & Sons Studebaker Dealers. Although he had been one for a great deal of travel in his youth, he didn't move much while in Daly City. In fact, about the biggest move was when he married and took up residence in a house just a few blocks away. It is this same home at 6893 Mission, by the way, where Jim and his family live today.

Once he had decided to settle down and raise a family, the elder Kennedy really swung into civic affairs. It was he, back in the early 1900's, who organized the first volunteer fire department and became its first chief. (It might be noted here that Jim's brother, Elmer, has now taken over the position his father founded as Fire Chief.)

Moving On

Moving on from the fire department, Jim's father took his place as superintendent of public works, and held it until he retired in 1933.

Although from his father he inherited the wanderlust, it wasn't until 1950 that Jim completed the "circle" by entering civic affairs.

"I'd always had an interest in city business, but until last year I felt that I didn't have the proper amount of time needed to hold down the job of councilman," Jim explained.

On To Yosemite

Returning to his life in the business world, Jim noted that it was in 1937 he went up to Yosemite to take a summer job with a lumber concern.

"I was only to stay three months in that office, but by the second month both the buyer and manager had been forced to retire because of ill health."

The job that was to have lasted but a summer, carried through for six years, with Kennedy taking over the position of head office manager.

Just two years after he went into lumbering, Kennedy felt that at last he had enough security to marry. It was in January, 1939, that he took his high school sweet, heart, Gladys Oakley ("She is no relation to Annie of sharp shooting fame," Jim noted) as his wife. They now have two children, Maureen, 11, and Jim Jr., 7.

Job Explodes

What might have developed into a life time job, exploded in 1943 when Kennedy decided to "come out of the hills," to help in defense work at the Western Pipe & Steel shipyard. As first auditor, and then chief expeditor, Kennedy looks back on his three years with that firm as some of the happiest of his life.

"It was one of the most interesting jobs I ever had," Kennedy recalls. "I made a lot of friends, and learned the in and outs of the government and its relation to business."

Back Home

At this time he was living in San Bruno, and it wasn't until 1949 that the Kenedy family again moved back to Daly City. "I had been away a long time, and one of the hapiest days of my life was when I returned."

Since 1945, Kennedy has been a liquor salesman, a job which he admits is relatively lucrative and enjoyable. And while Kennedy enjoys an occassional drink, his physique and general philosophy attest to the fact he could well play the teetotaler.

Dark Horse

With more time to spare, although still not enough for golf, Kennedy was persuaded by his friends to run for the city council in 1950. Although considered by many at the time as a "dark horse," he crossed the finish line with enough votes to assure himself that more than family friends had turned out at the polls.

Since he has been on the council, Kennedy has honestly attempted to do a job worthy of his family history. While the youngest member of that body, both in years and time on the council, Kennedy has proven he has the ability of a much older man.

To The Future

As all young men, Kennedy spends a lot of time looking to the future and what it holds for Daly City.

"Unless this war throws a monkey wrench into progress, I think the population of Daly City will double in the next 10 years, and in the next 25 to 30 years, I look for a population of close to 200,000 in this area."

With men like Jim Kennedy in city government, the populace can be certain that the growth will be orderly, and for the benefit of all.

NICKEL STEEL CASTINGS

Practically all railroad passenger car truck frames in the United States and Canada are cast of low carbon nickel steel as are many other parts of railroad equipment. Nickel-containing steel castings are employed extensively by the steel industry for rolls, pinions and heavy machinery parts. Such nickel steel castings are also used in mining and earth moving machinery and for many uses in petroleum producing equipment.

Activities of the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics include long-range outlook for employment in various industries.

Four Class-1 railroads converge in San Francisco.

ONE OUT OF SEVEN

One out of every seven persons employed in the United States is employed in the the highway transportation industries, according to the National Automobile Club. This represents a total of approximately nine million persons employed in these industries.

Alcoholics Rapidly Becoming Serious Problem For California Communities

Although the books are full of countless jokes about alcoholics, it's no laughing matter in California, at least in the opinion of men who have studied the subject, and who now recommend the state spend millions of dollars to do something about the situation.

Companion bills before the state legislature by Senator Chris N. Jespersen of Atascadero, and assemblyman Arthur H. Connolly, Jr., of San Francisco call for an expenditure of $4,400,000 for capital outlay alone, to establish two alcoholic clinics, in San Francisco and Los Angeles, to help cope with the problem.

So much concern is felt over the alcoholic problem that Governor Earl Warren himself has recommended the two institutions to the legislature, and the companion bills carry out his proposals.

Clinics Needed

Primarily, the attempt to establish the clinics, which would each have 100 beds and be devoted primarily to research, stems from studies of Dr. Lawrence Kolb, who only recently retired as Deputy Director of the Department of Mental Hygiene.

Dr. Kolb developed facts to prove that California is the most alcoholic state in the nation, and that its two major cities, San Francisco and Los Angeles, have the greatest number of drunk arrests per year of any cities in the United States, with Washington, D.C., running a poor third.

The per capita consumption of liquor in California, the report indicates, shows the highest rate in the union. Deaths from alcoholism, he says, are about five times higher than the published rates from this cause, and its impact on the population of the state's mental hospitals is tremendous.

Full Damage

In fact, he points out, the full amount of damage alcoholism causes the people of the state is not now, and probably never will be known, as the effects of excessive drinking cannot be measured in statistics alone.

Dr. Kolb, in a paper entitled "what we should know about alcoholism in California," points out that the social trend today is toward more drinking, and that there is increased pressure on all sides for people to drink. Too much social drinking can lead to excess, and excess in turn leads straight to the insane asylums, which are now given the less harsh titles of mental hospitals.

Higher Tax

There is no evidence that the doctor is launching into an old time lecture on prohibition, and nowhere is a return to the bootleg days even suggested. Rather, the suggestion is that a higher tax be paid on liquor to finance the construction and operation of the alcoholic hospitals, so that those who drink in moderation can finance treatment for the unfortunates who succumb to the stuff.

In addition to treatment and research, Dr. Kolb suggests a program of public education on the use and effects of alcohol, as well as stricter regulations on the sale of liquor.

Big Question

Just how far the legislature will go in following out the suggestions of the governor and the department of mental hygiene is as yet a question, in view of the tight budget situation, but, as it pointed out, if the subject of alcoholism is dealt with from the beginning, it will, in the long run, save the state more than the institutions will cost in its operation of institutions for the mentally unsound.

Season Soon To Close On Some Fish And Game

FEB. 15. (CNS)—Closing of the season on fur-bearing mammals, steelhead trout and salmon, and lobsters is drawing near, the State Division of Fish and Game reminded hunters and anglers today.

Fur-bearing mammals may be taken only until February 27, the division warned, and only trap, firearms, or dogs may be used. There is no open season on fishers and wolverines and those 18 years or over must have a license.

Trout Season

The season on steelhead trout and salmon is closed in Trinity and Siskiyou counties and will end February 28 in specified streams elsewhere. The bag limits are three trout or salmon or combination except in coastal areas and the Yuba river where the limit is two fish. There are certain local exceptions.

The fishing for black bass, sunfish, crappie and sacramento perch will end February 28 in all counties north of Mono, Madera, Fresno, Santa Clara and Santa Cruz counties. There is no closed season elsewhere or in Clear Lake. Bag limits are five black bass or 25 of the other varieties.

Big Limit High

There is no closed season on striped bass and the bag limit is five fish totaling 25 pounds and one fish or two fish regardless of weight.

There is no closed season on shad, ocean fish, or catfish. Lobster fishing ends March 15 with no bag limit. None under 10½ inches may be taken.

Open Your Heart To The 1951 Heart Funds Drive Here

A "real" heart message was released to thousands of San Mateo County homes on Valentine Day.

The message is a letter from the San Mateo County Heart Association and marks the beginning of the 1951 fund drive by the local association in affiliation with the American Heart Association.

Over the signature of Julio V. Dougherty, general chairman, the letter declares:

Financing

"Financing of an adequate research program is the major objective of the Heart Fund campaign in San Mateo County. Other important objectives includes the making of post-graduate knowledge concerning treatment available to physicians, establishment of standards for heart clinics and public health education concerning heart health for all the people in San Mateo County."

In a unique departure, cards inclosed with the appeal for contributions ask for each donor's opinion of what phase of fighting heart disease should be emphasized, medical research, education of the public, or service to patients. The opinions of the donors will be used in shaping the program for the local association.

Major Dangers

Major dangers to be combatted in the heart program here, according to Dougherty, include hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure, rheumatic fever and thrombosis. These heart disease dangers, he points out, are equally applicable to men, women and children.

The Heart Association is being assisted in its drive by the San Mateo County Tuberculosis and Health Association which, during 1950, included a series of professional lectures for doctors of the county in its initial Post-Graduate Symposium on diseases of the chest. These included lectures on evaluation of the decompensate heart, treatment of the decompensated heart, rheumatic fever complicated with pregnancy, rheumatic heart disease in children, and congenital heart disease complicated with pregnancy.

Local Drive

The local heart fund drive will continue from tomorrow throughout the remainder of February and as long thereafter as may be necessary to set up a substantial working fund for the local program.

In addition to the mail appeals, plastic heart containers for contributions will be distributed in public gathering places and contributions will be welcomed at the new association headquarters established at 117 South Ellsworth Avenue in San Mateo.

COLD WEATHER SHELTERS—Enemy attacks in Korea could be successfully resisted but subzero temperatures with ice, snow and howling winds added to hazard of combat. Here American troops provide wind breaks over their freezing foxholes.

County Employes Pay Hike Studied

A study to determine whether or not county employes should receive a pay boost was underway today.

William Goggin, county personnel director, said he doubted whether any increases would be made until after the end of the fiscal year, July 1.

Last November, the county raised each employe one step on the wage scale. The raise came after the Korean War and the resulting rise in the cost of living.

Goggin said his assistants are studying other Bay Area counties to determine the alignment of salaries paid by industries in the Area.

Cement Production Tops Mineral Products Here

FEB. 15. (CNS)—Cement, clays, magnesium compounds and miscellaneous metals topped all other mineral production in San Mateo county during 1949, being valued at $4,499,783, the State Division of Mines said today. No figures are as yet available for 1950.

Mineral production in the county for the year was valued at $5,267,012, stone rated at $767,229 accounting for the balance.

Need of civil defense for strategic materials are expected to increase total revenue in 1950 and the current year.

USE HORN SPARINGLY

Use your automobile horn sparingly, advises the National Automobile Club. To roll down the street blowing your horn at anything and everything that comes near you is just bad driving manners. In most cases the judicious use of steering wheel, accelerator, or brake pedal will serve you better.

Local Man Doesn't Want Any Music Here . . . Even A Clothesline

J. E. Cooper, 130 Winchester, is a man with sensitive hearing, at least that is the contention of his neighbor James McConnell, 134 Winchester.

When police arrived at the McConnell home at 10:15 p.m. Sunday to stop what Cooper had termed "a loud racket," they heard the following story from McConnel.

"That noise comes from my two sons and their band. They only practice one night a week and Saturday morning. I don't know why Cooper should complain."

Police requested that McConnell hold the band practice down to a low roar, and allow his boys to play only during the day. McConnell agreed, but not before he had asserted: "Cooper complains about every noise. He even kicks when my wife hangs out clothes. He says the clothesline squeaks and makes too much noise."

WHO TOOK TOOKE'S AUTOMOBILE BATTERY?

Richard Tooke, 42 Tallwood Drive, was taken to the tune of one car battery Sunday evening.

Tooke knew he had been taken when he pushed the starter of the machine, parked behind the Bank of America. The motor didn't take, and Tooke found the battery gone.

Police took down Tooke's name, and gave the burglar's victim a few hours to take his car out of the lot.

FIVE BATTLE WOUNDS—Cpl. Albert L. Ireland, 32, of Cold Spring, N. Y., fighting Marine reservist who stopped five enemy missiles in World War II, practically ordered himself to the fighting front in Korea. When told that twice-wounded Marines no longer were sent to combat he went directly to the Commandant of the Corps in Washington and asked for a fighting assignment. Ireland came away with orders to fly west to rejoin his Leatherneck replacement draft heading for Korea.

Jujubes, persimmons and pecans are among the agricultural crops of Sutter County.

From a GI Sweetheart

One ingenious GI found a way to greet his "sweet" from overseas. He ordered a corsage through the flowers-by-wire service. It featured his overseas stripes with white camellias. Ava Norring of NBC-TV was the lucky girl.

White or pink camellias make a novel corsage and go well with afternoon or evening attire. Although white flowers are recommended for brunettes, it is plain to see that blonde hair also blends well. According to Alyn Wayne, stylist of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Ass'n., there will always be the right corsage, for the right girl.

Movies, Basketball Highlight Week

Color movies of the Philippines, Hong Kong, Singapore, and Bali will be shown at Community Hall of the San Mateo Junior College Monday evening, February 19.

On February 26 color slides of fifteen European countries will form part of the program. A lecturer will discuss the pictures. Community Hall, part of the junior college adult center, invites the public to the 7:30 o'clock lectures free of charge.

The junior college basketball team, beaten by City College of San Francisco in a recent game, goes to Santa Rosa this Saturday evening for another conference game. Two other games with Stockton College and San Francisco will complete the conference schedule.

Coach Herb Hudson has baseball practice underway on the college practice field with 23 players out for the sport. He plans to start practice games next week.

The college students are already at work selecting their Spring play, while the Peninsula Little Theatre, which is giving its final performances of "Minick" this weekend, is also casting members for its next production.

Flouride Test To Be Given In SF

San Francisco will test the value of flouride in dental care in one of the city's several water districts. The Board of Supervisors has approved the experiment for water from the San Andreas reservoir, which supplies 40 per cent of the city's population located in the Sunset and Richmond Districts.

Flouridation of city water systems have been tested in more than 100 American cities but nowhere in California, it was reported, and never before in a metropolis such as San Francisco.

Addition of sodium flouride to the drinking water, at the rate of one to 1,000,000 parts, has been proven to sharply reduce the number of tooth cavities among children, according to dental experts. Cost for the experiment has been estimated at $20,000 for installation of the mixing equipment and $15,000 a year for the cost of the chemical. On a citywide basis costs were estimated at about $85,000 for installation and $60,000 annually for sodium flouride.

The Board of Supervisors said much credit for their action should go to the California State Dental Assn. which just concluded its second anual Children's Dental Health Conference here. Almost the entire session was devoted to reports on the success of flouridation, and the Board, to bring the system to San Francisco.

Easter Preview

Here's one way to plan far ahead on your spring wardrobe. This suit made of a tweedy suiting fabric woven with Celanese acetate rayon is lightweight for wear under a coat now, and perfect for the balmy days to come. The crisp lines, soft tailoring by Handmacher and smart appearance, all attest to the good looks of this new fabric which is crease-resistant and soil-resistant. That new straw sailor is the keynote of spring chic.

DALY CITY ASSESSED VALUATION $781,000

FEB. 15. (CNS)—Assessed valuation of State-assessed tangible property in Daly City at the close of the last fiscal year was $781,650, the State Board of Equalization announced today.

Value of locally-assessed property was $12,513,012. Both totals were equalized for city taxation.

At the same time the board announced property exemptions for San Mateo county totaled $19,028,081. Included were 101 churches, $895,480; three colleges, $314,120; 13 welfare groups, $438,920; and 18,976 veterans, $17,379,561.

Average for veteran exemptions was $916.

VITAL GAS TURBINE MATERIALS

Age-hardenable forms of Inconel, an alloy of nickel-chromium-iron, including Inconel "X" and Inconel "W," continued to be used in 1950 in the United States for components of aircraft gas turbines such as rotor wheels for small turbines and power recovery units. Inconel "X" and Inconel "W" in sheet metal forms are used for ducts to convey the high temperature gases and, at lower temperatures, for springs and supports subject to vibration.

Effects of long working hours and incidences of work injuries are studied by the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Reemployment rights of veterans are provided by various Federal laws dating back to 1940.

Better Grassland Needed In County

FEB. 15. (CNS) — Better grasslands to support more livestock and increase the production of hay which was grown on 2,127,000 acres in California last year, 17,300 acres in San Mateo county, was advocated today by scientists at the University of California college of agriculture.

Production of hay in the state last year reached 6,442,000 tons, 24,380 in the county, which returned farmers $19.50 per ton for a total revenue of $125,619,000.

The building up of grasslands is vital to national defense, according to J. Earl Coke, director of the Agricultural Extension Service. It would make possible a 20 to 25 per cent increase in the number of cattle and sheep. It would also improve 10,000,000 acres of brushland in all parts of the state.

Important steps in this direction, Coke states, are to improve range and pastures with proper seeding of grasses and legumes;

Provide and conserve water for livestock and forage production;

Apply best scientific information on harvesting and storing forage. Control weeds, brush, insect pests, and stock parasites;

Reduce farm costs and raise net income by employing suitable combinations of grasslands and livestock improvement practices;

Employ modern and scientific practices in the develment and management of livestock and the pastures and ranges on which they graze.

HOME OWNERS QUESTION BOX

Q—How can I remove a shellac stain from a carpet?

A—Sponging with alcohol will remove shellac.

Q—The living room of my new home has paneled walls of hardwood veneer. Can you tell me how this paneling should be cleaned and what other treatment it requires?

A—Any hardwood veneer surface—wall panels, flush doors, built-in cabinets or furniture—is easily cleaned and maintained. First, clean the surface with a slightly moist cloth which has been dipped in tepid water containing a mild soap and then wipe it dry. Next, apply sparingly a standard wax, either liquid or paste, with a soft cloth, rubbing in the direction of the grain, to bring out the full beauty of the wood. Cleaning and waxing once a year should be sufficient in urban areas and may be required less frequently in rural sections. Other than this, hardwood veneer requires only an occasional wiping with a dust cloth.

Q—What can be done to remove an odor from a refrigerator?

A—Good results usually can be obtained by using powdered charcoal. It can be purchased in perforated containers which are made expressly for this purpose.

Reapportionment Of Voters Studied

FEB. 15. (CNS) — The problems of reapportionment will be discussed by the Assembly Interim Committee on Elections and Reapportionment in a series of five meetings throughout California.

Assemblyman Laughlin E. Waters, Los Angeles, chairman of the committee made this announcement today, giving the following schedule for the meetings:

San Diego, February 19; Los Angeles, February 21; Fresno, February 23; San Francisco, February 26; and Sacramento, February 27.

Waters said that the purpose of the meetings is to provide an opportunity for interested citizens and groups to offer recommendations for study by the committee and consideration by the legislature, which is confronted with reapportioning the state into new assembly and congressional districts in accord with the 1950 census.

"The committee is particularly desirous of receiving accurate data on population distribution within counties," Waters said. He stated the committee prefers the information in documentary form, rather than direct testimony and also pointed out that preparation of maps which illustrate recommendations graphically, would be welcomed.

NICKEL SILVER

Nickel silver, a copper base alloy containing nickel and zinc continues its progress for applications in which appearance, cleanliness, color and finish and corrosion-resistance are essential requirements. This alloy is the preferred material for use as a base metal for the production of silver-plated ware and is used extensively for architectural trim, ornamental jewelry, slide fasteners, keys, food packaging and food processing machinery parts, and hardware and plumbing fittings.

CARRYING WOUNDED FROM FRONT LINES —These entrapped Marines struggle down a road with a helpless litter patient to a cleared strip for air evacuation to hospitals in Japan. New Products Show Coming March 3

One of the top attractions of the entertainment world — the 1951 New Products Show—will be presented as part of the California International Home Show to be held in the Oakland Exposition Building from March 3 through 11.

The new feature, headed by Joseph Schulte, chairman of the new products committee of the National Association of Home Builders, will have its national premiere in the Oakland Show. A nationwide tour of major cities follows.

Major attractions of the New Products Show are a twelve foot flying saucer, the Man from Mars, a talking, winking and blushing car and a host of new devices for better living. These include new building materials such as a lightweight concrete board which can be sawed and nailed, safety hinges which prevent a child from locking himself in a room, a fool-proof safety range, waist high refrigerator units, an automatic pet feeder and more than 20 others.

To be co-featured with the Home Show is Builders Market week first event of its kind ever held in the Bay Area and one scheduled to attract hundreds of builders from the eleven Western States.

The Show and Builders Market Week are sponsored by the Associated Home Builders of the Greater Eastbay, Inc. John I. Hennessy is managing director.

Defense Expenditures Deductable From Tax

FEB. 15. (CNS)—Some consolation, at least, may be derived from making contributions to civil defense organizations.

These may be deducted from income taxes, according to announcement made by Maj. Gen. Walter M. Robertson, State Civil Defense Director.

Robertson said today that donations of this type have been placed by the federal government in the same category as "charitable contributions and gifts."

SHIP REACTIVATION

ATOMIC BOMB LIFE SAVERS

What's different about A-bombs?

The atom bomb is just another way to cause an explosion. While it holds more death and destruction than ever before concentrated, its total power is still definitely limited.

Like fire bombs and other high explosives, A-bombs cause death and destruction by heat and blast.

Radioactivity is the only way—besides size—in which A-bombs differ from ordinary bombs.

In the devastated area, the immediate cause of death is only of academic interest. Any one of the three factors is sufficient.

Many casualties are caused by flying debris—glass, parts of buildings, etc.—and fire.

Injuries due to radioactivity are the same as those caused by exposure of the entire body to X-rays—destruction of so many cells and tissues that survival is impossible.

STAINLESS STEELS IN TRANSPORTATION

The high rate of automotive production in the United States and Great Britain in 1950 required large quantities of stainless steels. The use of these steels in facilities, such as tank cars and tank trucks, for transporting chemicals, liquid foods and beverages has shown substantial growth.

First Flight Air Mail Covers Available March 1

Postmaster John F. Fixa today announced that air mail service will be inaugurated at Owensboro, Kentucky over route AM-47 on or about March 1, 1951.

Special cachet will be provided for Owensboro and the usual treatment of philatelic mail will be authorized.

First Flight

First flight air mail covers sent to the Postmaster at Owensboro must be prepaid at the appropriate air mail postage rate. Double postal cards and double post cards intended for return reply purposes are not acceptable as first flight covers. All covers should be accompanied by a letter authorizing the holding of the covers for the first flight and requesting the application of the cachet. Space approximately 2½ by 2½ inches to the left on the address side of all covers is required for the cachet.

No provision will be made for point to point covers. However, at the request of collectors, covers receiving cachet will be given directional service only to an office designated by the General Supt., Postal Transportation Service, and served by the first flight in each direction, and will there be backstamped and dispatched onward to destination.

No Cachet

Mr. Fixa further announced that air mail service will be inaugurated at St. Petersburg, Florida, on route AM-6, effective on or about March 1, 1951.

No official cachet for first flight covers will be authorized for St. Petersburg, as cachet has previously been furnished for air mail service at this point. However, souvenir covers received by the Postmaster at St. Petersburg will be dispatched to first flights, if practicable.

Special slogan cancellations may be obtained by interested collectors by sending self-addressed prepaid envelopes to the appropriate postmasters listed below with the request that the cancellation be applied:

Labor Shortage Predicted For Harvest Season

FEB. 15. (CNS)—A labor shortage on California farms of between 50,000 and 75,000 workers at the peak of the 1951 harvest season was predicted today by Edward F. Hayes, chief of the Farm Placement Division of the State Department of Employment.

Hayes said the need would be met by all domestic sources of emergency supply labor, off-shore workers, and whatever number of Mexican nationals estimated necessary to assure successful completion of the harvest.

The farm labor shortage, he pointed out, will not be felt until late summer and early fall months, when many California crops overlap on harvesting demands.

Meanwhile, Hayes asked farmers to estimate their needs for workers as nearly as possible at the present time, to permit the department to negotiate for Mexican nationals.

He said the present international agreement with Mexico would remain in effect until June 30, and recruiting will start at Hermosillo, Mex., on Feb. 25.

Hayes said that some 10,000 Mexican nationals are employed on California farms at the present time. How many more will be needed will not be known until estimates are turned in to local department offices.

METAL ARC WELDING ELECTRODES

The use of nickel in alloy steel electrodes for metal arc welding has increased rapidly since the introduction of the lime-ferritic type of electrode coatings. These nickel steel electrodes are used widely in welding of railroad equipment, trucks, crushers, and both cast and wrought parts for heavy machinery. They are also standard for welding steels intended for low temperature service.

453,000 Enter State Last Month

FEB. 15. (CNS) — Threat of possible A-bomb attack on vital West Coast cities held little terror for residents of other states for the Bureau of Plant Quarantine, State Department of Agriculture, today reported 151,101 automobiles and 453,143 passengers crossed the state's border stations last month.

Inspectors at the stations, who guard against the invasion of pests dangerous to California's rich agricultural industry, checked 67,576 cars with California licenses and 83,525 licensed in other states.

Passengers crossing the state border were divided, 178,042 residing in California and 211,713 "aliens" who entered as tourists or to make new homes in this state.

Inspectors also checked 20,588 commercial trucks and 3,003 busses.

The station at Yermo reported the heaviest traffic—26,008 automobiles and 72,890 passengers. Blythe checked 24,121 automobiles and 78,683 passengers. The extra passengers were counted on busses, Blythe reporting 578 as compared to 301 for Yermo.

Truckee, chief transcontinental entry point for Northern California, checked 13,831 automobiles, 2,534 trucks, 500 stages, and 46,446 passengers.

To the north, Hornbrook checked 12,064 automobiles, 1,246 trucks, 378 stages, and 37,838 passengers.

Here's How A Housewife Can Conserve Energy

FEB. 15. (CNS)—The California housewife who foliows grandma's footsteps about the house, is wasting effort and performing unnecessary drudgery in preparing meals and washing dishes.

A survey of 100 kitchens by the United States Department of Agriculture showed that supplies used in cooking and washing dishes were kept more than eight feet from where used. Many items were stored outside the kitchen, in a pantry, or basement.

Keep these supplies close to where they are used, is the advice, and tedious tasks will be turned into light chores and there will be more time for leisure.

Ed. Note: This is the seventh of a series of ten special articles.

If the honestly unemployed in California are to continue to have an unemployment insurance reserve fund from which to draw benefits, some reform must be made at once in the unemployment insurance contribution system.

At the present rate, the sole contributors are the employers, and they are not able to contribute enough to keep the fund solvent.

Even though every employer in California, regardless of the merit rating he may enjoy because of steady employment for his workers, now pays a minimum of 1 per cent of his payroll, the fund will diminish by about $23,000,000 this last year—1950, a year of high employment.

Paid Tax

Even if every employer under the system paid the present maximum tax of 2.7 per cent of his payroll, the fund still would diminish by $8,000,000, it is estimated.

Employer contributions in each of the last five years, except in 1947, have not been equal to the amount paid out in benefits. There was an $118,000,000 deficit in 1949.

This situation can be met in either of three ways:

The tax on employers can be raised above 2.7 per cent.

Pay Checks

Employees, who now pay nothing for unemployment insurance, can again be taxed on their pay checks, in addition to the 1 per cent the employees now pay for disability, or sickness, insurance.

The state can stop paying unemployment insurance.

It is probable that few of the millions of workers in California and perhaps thousands of employers, do not know that the third alternative exists.

Probably they do not know that the goose that lays the golden egg can be killed!

But it can be killed!

Reserve Fund

If the unemployment insurance reserve fund shrinks enough, the present law permits the Commission to stop payments.

The definition of suitable employment needs to be re-defined.

If there was no unemployment insurance programe, with its weekly guarantee, workers would not be so finicky about the jobs they are willing to accept. Part of the racket in refusing to take jobs the worker can perform is based on highly technical and trifling objections that the job "is not in his or her line."

The Commission makes an effort to find jobs in the exact category of the worker, but too many workers refuse to take jobs they can do because they are not exactly the jobs they have had.

Too many people believe that the nation, state or city owe them a living!

Educated

They should be educated to know that unemployment insurance is not a "bonus" for having done some work and it is not "something they have paid for and are entitled to." It is designed to be "insurance."

Good citizens, and this should include all claimants for unemployment insurance, who are bona-fide members of the labor market, should favor remedial legislation. It is the only way to protect the honest and ethical worker who some day may be out a job. If reforms are not made, when the honest worker gets out of a job, there may be no money with which to pay unemployment insurance.

An individual should be entitled to only ONE claim during one period of unemployment.

This would end the "lag-quarter" racket.

Yearly Payments

At present, yearly benefit payments are being made to many persons who cannot, or WILL NOT, hold down a steady job.

These chiselers work only long enough to accrue benefit rights.

The steady worker who holds a job for years, is paying the freight for the loafers. Should the steady worker finally get out of a job, he can file only on his earnings in four of the last five or six quarter-years, depending on the date the claim is filed. All of his earnings for the prior years are gone forever, so far as giving him a right to unemployment insurance is concerned.

Some employers are equally guilty of raiding the fund. These mostly are the ones who provide part-time employment and conspire with their employees to handle wage payments so that the employees can get unemployment insurance benefits to which they are not entitled.

Other Employers

Other employers, through carelessness, do not follow up claims by their former employees, thus permitting the perpetration of rackets.

Correcting the faults of the present unemployment insurance act is a big job, but there are a few definite corrections in the law that can be made and that will be a big step forward. Even these few corrections can result in replacing the red ink in the fund with black.

The first of these will be explained in the next installment, and the remedy will be presented in a bill to be introduced in the 1951 session of the state legislature.

Patriotic Party Recipes Revealed

Because we celebrate Lincoln's and Washington's birthday in February, it's as good a month as any to be patriotic. Here are two dessert recipes, featured in February's Good Housekeeping, which will help give a party touch to your patriotism.

To make a Washington pie, here's what you do: Fill four thin layers of cake with red jam. Place cutout of a hatchet on top; sprinkle entire top with confectioner's sugar; remove hatchet, and there you have it.

For Lincoln's Birthday, try making an ice-cream log. Here are the directions:

1 pt. coffee ice cream in round container
Unsweetened chocolate
Melted chocolate

After removing ice cream from container, shave the chocolate; roll ice cream in it. Set on plate; cut out 3" deep wedge from top. Dip toothpick in melted chocolate, and make rings on top to resemble log. Makes 3 servings.

If you wish to use this same recipe for Washington's Birthday, place maraschino cherries, with stems, beside the log.

Markets for the extremely strong permanent magnet alloys of the Alnico type, containing 14 per cent or more of nickel are increasing rapidly. New applications, such as non-mechanical magnetic household refrigerator and cupboard door closures and magnetic tool racks, are constantly being developed, with the field of potential applications being very broad.

March of Dimes Huckleberry Finn

Larry McKenzie, 1951 March of Dimes Poster Child, sits in a wheat field and forgets he has polio—a smiling symbol of the thousands of children and adults who look to the March of Dimes for aid when polio strikes. The wheat field is on a farm near Larry's home on the shores of Lake Ontario. Twelve-year-old Larry was hit by polio in August of 1949 and was aided by Orleans County (N. Y.) Chapter of National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. His picture will be seen on thousands of posters throughout the nation during the 1951 March of Dimes against polio this January.

SF Rent Office Grants Hikes

The rent office in San Francisco has granted 15,958 rent increases to landlords during the month of January, said William A. Bledsoe, area rent director for the area.

In San Francisco higher rents have been allowed to landlords covering 18,286 rental units. These rent increases have averaged 16.2 per cent above the previous ceiling rent. Bledsoe attributed the figure to the liberalized provisions of the rent office for higher rents. He said there are now more than 11 grounds by which landlords may qualify for these increases, assuring landlords of a fair return on their rent-controlled property. To receive an adjustment in ceiling rent, a landlord must file a petition with the rent office giving the reasons why an increase is necessary.

Tenants are given an opportunity to respond to this petition by showing why an increase is not justified, and tenants are reminded they should not pay higher rent until notified by the rent office that their landlord has received authority for the rent increase.

Bledsoe said that refunds and penalty payments obtained in January from landlords for rent-ceiling overcharges totalled $25,358.62. These were obtained both in voluntary settlements with landlords and through court action. Refunds to tenants amounted to $20,221.74 and $3,135.88 in penalty payments to the U. S. Treasury.

During January the San Francisco rent office granted certificates permitting eviction to 87 landlords and also 34 were turned down as being unjustified petitions for eviction. Evictions not requiring rent-office permission out-

"Glamourous" Cows Given Beauty Tips

FEB. 15. (CNS) — Glamorous cows with a record butterfat production may be a source of pride to the dairyman, but if he wants to show a profit at the end of the year he should pay more attention to producing at a profit and forget the fame one cow brings.

Agricultural experts are advising dairymen in San Mateo county, who at the latest survey by the California crop and livestock reporting service, had 5,800 milk cows on ranges, to watch costs in relation to high milk production.

Successful dairymen today are producing higher quality roughage. Special diets are given to encourage cows to eat high protein legume roughage.

These dairymen are also feeding grass silage during the period when pasturage is poor. Another good practice which gets results is reducing the amount of protein supplement in the ration. Dairy experts say no protein supplement need be added to farm grains if good quality roughage is available.

One of the most important tasks of the dairyman is to keep an adequate system of records of production, the feed fed, and costs. A dairy farmer without such records cannot determine his costs and returns.
